Japanese Marines Control Chinese Area of Shanghai

Chiang himself was expected to fly to Nanking within a few hours, said Canton reports.

TROUBLES INCREASE

At Nanking, the Shanghai incident involving the shooting of three marines and the preceding affair at Hankow, where a Japanese consular policeman was slain, formally were given a place on the growing list of Sino-Japanese troubles awaiting settlement.

The Japanese consul-general, Yukihiro Sumo, handed the National Government Foreign Office a note demanding the government guarantee there be no recurrence of such incidents.

While the text of the communication was not disclosed, it was understood it informed Nanking that two incidents, "like others in China in recent months," were "acts of anti-Japanese terrorism."

The Foreign Office expressed its regret, but made no specific reply.

ANOTHER JAPANESE DEATH

Peking, Sept. 25 (Associated Press).—The violent death of another Japanese on the Chinese mainland—the sixth within a month—was disclosed here late tonight.

Japanese, however, said they were convinced the death was accidental and did not consider it to be an "incident."

The victim was Joji Akiba, a reporter for The Tientsin Nippo, Japanese newspaper. En route to Tientsin from Peking last night, Akiba mysteriously fell off a train and was killed.

French Franc Is Now Being Devalued

The Stock Exchange reflected the "real" uncertainty, prices dropping a few cents to more than $2 a share in lively trading which followed a quiet opening. In the bond market, prices were lighter and price changes were more fixed, being fractionally up or down.

One transaction in French 7 per cent bonds was recorded at $168, down $4 per $100 face value.

Francs for future delivery were first quoted at a discount of 5 of a cent for thirty days and 7 of a cent for ninety days, but the quotations were merely nominal and finally were abandoned.

Even the spot franc price, said to have been held to narrow limits by control funds, was nominal at 90.1-16 of a cent lower.

POUND LOWER

The pound slipped 3 1/2 cents to $5.02, interpreted here as reflecting operations of the British equalization fund in behalf of the franc.

The Canadian dollar was down 5-64 per cent to par with United States money.

The gold currencies were generally lower.

AT LONDON

London, Sept. 26.—Fears of weekend devaluation of the French franc swept the London exchange market today.

In dealings in which rates were described as "all over the place," French francs for delivery in a month's time were quoted at a discount of 7 francs to the pound sterling, while those for the three months delivery were 10 francs per pound lower than the spot rate. For immediate delivery the rate was 16.87 francs to the pound.

Other currencies of the continental gold bloc moved erratically as the franc fluctuated. The United States dollar was in demand, gaining nearly a cent in relation to the pound.

Paris, Sept. 25 (Canadian Press).—The Havas News Agency reported tonight the franc will be established at 100 to the pound sterling.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 25 (Canadian Press).—Events revolving about the birth and death of an infant girl and the futile efforts to cremate the body were described today by Beverly Pringle, twenty-two-year-old taxicab driver, on trial with May Robertson before a jury for infanticide.

NORTH SPAIN TOWN BOMBED

More Than 100 Persons Killed When Rebel Fliers Attack Bilbao

By ROBERT B. PARKER Jr.
Associated Press Correspondent

Bilbao, Spain, Sept. 25.—(By Warship to Saint Jean de Luz, France).—Insurgent bombing planes rained projectiles on Bilbao today, killing more than 100 persons and wounding many more.

The bombardment caused heavy property damage and set part of the city afire.

It began at 9 a.m., and lasted without relief for more than two hours. Bombs wrecked many dwellings, burying men, women and children under the wreckage.

STATION BURNED

The railroad station was ablaze. The government's palace and the provincial Parliament Building were seriously damaged.

Crowds of terrified citizens dashed in panic through the streets, while firemen rushed into buildings to drag out dead and injured.

An entire block of private homes in the square near the Carlton Hotel was blown to bits by 500-pound bombs.

Planes flew low over the city. The government guns were silent as fires broke out all around them.

Scientist Quits Post

Associated Press

Paris, Sept. 25.—Mme. Irene Joliot-Curie, daughter of the discoverers of radium, resigned today from the French cabinet.

The newspaper Le Figaro had predicted her resignation as Under-secretary of Scientific Research and attributed it to "technical differences with the government."

Her successor is Prof. Jean Perrin of the faculty of science at the Sorbonne.

In the future of the League: The League's machinery and the will to work that machinery. Of the two, the second was without doubt infinitely the more important.

The principal causes of the League's recent failure, Mr. Eden claimed, were the lack of universality of the League and the failure to play a more effective part in the earlier stages of the crisis.

SPEDY ACTION

It would seem appropriate that all members should examine at the present incidence their commitments and the possibility of making them more applicable to the realities of the world situation, he suggested.

The British government held machinery could be devised which would facilitate the effective intervention of the League earlier than is now expected in any dispute.

To this end Mr. Eden suggested the amendment of article XI of the covenant which would enable the League Council to make recommendations without the consent of the states in controversy.

ARMAMENT PROBLEM

On the subject of armaments, Mr. Eden said:

"We in the United Kingdom are engaged on fulfilling a very considerable programme for the re-equipment of our three services—navy, army and air. We are making good progress with that programme. We entered on the re-equipment of our defences because we thought it a national duty."

"Though I do not conceal from you there are other ways in which I believe the majority of our people would prefer it possible to spend their wealth, we shall persist in it unless and until the nations reach an international agreement for the limitation and reduction of armaments."

"This assurance I can give. Any attempt to secure such an agreement would require the co-operation of all nations. I must, however, add one word of caution. If disarmament is to be real, it must be not only military, but mental. Not only weapons, but mental must be laid aside."

"A standstill in armaments calculated upon achieving the most intensive measure of armament, we believe their power would be of no service to the cause of peace. We could have no lot or part in that."

Spain Is Called World War Field

Delegate Tells League Fight Is Between Groups of Ideas

JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
Associated Press Foreign Staff

Geneva, Sept. 25.—The Spanish delegate, Julio Alvarez del Vayo, told the League of Nations Assembly today the blood-stained soil of Spain already is the battlefield of world war.

The Madrid envoy warned the assembled statesmen that future wars will not be conflicts between states. Instead, he said, the battle will be between two groups of ideas, between "democracy and oppression."

He mentioned no nation by name, but grouped the states which he accused of siding the insurgents as those whose political structure coincided "with that to which the rebels desire to reduce Spain."

Called a blockade

The Spaniard assailed the European non-intervention agreement as "direct and positive intervention in behalf of the rebels" and as "a blockade of the lawful Spanish government."

Del Vayo also pledged the present Spanish regime never would interfere with the internal politics of other countries.

Delegates regarded this statement as an effort to dispel any fears that an extremely radical Spain would influence the political conditions of her neighbors.

At lowest level

At the same time, Mr. Eden said in reference to the last item, Britain would have no lot or part in stabilizing armaments at a level which would give a permanent advantage to the country which has been concentrating on the most intensive rearmament.

Publicity for armament expenditures also was a measure advocated by Britain.

ACTS OF DEFIANCE

In the word picture, Mr. Eden said the rival forms of government hurling defiance at each other. This inevitably meant a weakening of confidence throughout the world.

"By our signature to the League of Nations covenant and every nation by its signature to the Pact of Paris," he said, "almost every nation of the world regulated war as an instrument for the settlement of international disputes. Civilization has to put its promises into practice or perish."

FULLY CO-OPERATING

The policy of the British government, Mr. Eden continued, would still continue to be based on membership in the League. More than that, the whole-hearted co-operation of Britain could be counted on in order that the League might be strengthened for the work it had to do both by the enlargement of its membership and by more confident loyalty of its members.

Two essential problems, he said, lay

British Labor Party Council Upholds Government's Attitude Toward Spain

Canadian Press from Havas

London, Sept. 25.—The National Labor Party Council upheld the British government's Spanish non-intervention policy at a meeting today despite pressure from the left wing of the party.

The meeting was marked by a discussion of charges from a British newspaper that Spanish interventionists, composed of private British citizens, that German bombs and Italian military planes were being used by the Spanish insurgents.

At a meeting of the special Spanish investigation committee held before the National Labor Party council session fragments of what were said to be German bombs and manufacturer's plates assertedly from Italian-made planes were displayed.

M. Koesler, a Hungarian newspaperman working for a British newspaper, declared Portugal had purchased 45 military planes from Germany since the beginning of the civil war, and that he had seen German citizens at Seville wearing Spanish aviators' uniforms.

Miss Isabella Brown, returned after a trip to Madrid from two Italian papers, declared Portugal had purchased 45 military planes from Germany since the beginning of the civil war, and that he had seen German citizens at Seville wearing Spanish aviators' uniforms.

Legion Head to Work for Peace

H. W. Colmery of Topeka, Kan., New Chief of U.S. Veterans

Associated Press
Cleveland, Sept. 25.—The American Legion handed Harry W. Colmery, Topeka, Kansas, lawyer, its national commandery yesterday with a mandate to work for peace among nations. He succeeds Ray Murphy, retiring commander.

The Kansas lawyer told the legionnaires he would dedicate himself to "a programme of administration characterized by courage instead of cowardice, sincerity, not hypocrisy, and to make the Legion worthy of the ideals of those who founded it."

Just before electing Colmery by acclamation, the veterans, as a "contribution to the promotion and preservation of peace," adopted a resolution demanding that "the principle of universal service be presented to the forthcoming session of the Congress as a major point in the legislative programme of this organization."

Under the Legion's programme this act would provide for "the draft of capital, industry and man power, as well as men to fight in the event of a national emergency or actual war."

The veterans approved a resolution urging the United States to maintain a policy of neutrality and "remain free of any alliance which might drag the country into war."

The convention ended yesterday.

IMMIGRATION IS ADVOCATED

Delegates Say Saskatchewan Could Receive 5,000 From Britain

Canadian Press
Saskatoon, Sept. 25.—Concrete request to the Dominion Government to negotiate for a resumption of immigration to Canada, and strong support for Brig.-Gen. M. L. Hornby's immigration plan issued from the final session of the Saskatchewan Immigration and Settlement Convention last night.

The session carried unanimously a resolution requesting the Saskatchewan Government to notify the federal government that Saskatchewan was ready to receive 5,000 British immigrant families, to be settled under the Hornby plan during the next five years, starting early in 1937.

Inclusion of a fair wage clause in any contracts given under the Hornby plan also gained unanimous favor. Gen. Hornby, after hearing support for his particular scheme, addressed the meeting briefly on future policy. "It will be a difficult job, for emigration has been dormant for many years," he said. "Nevertheless, we must go ahead."

COLDWELL'S VIEWS
Earlier yesterday, at the forenoon session, M. J. Coldwell, M.P. for Roseburg-Biggar, Sask., reminded the 200 delegates that in 1933 and 1934 Canada sent more people back than she received from the Old Country, and in 1935 alone, 4,000 Britishers were deported."The present is not the time for immigration in Canada," Mr. Coldwell stated.
Referring to the visit of R. S. Dalgleish and Sir Patrick Hannon, British M.P., to the convention, Mr. Coldwell stated: "If these eminent visitors had traveled through districts in Saskatchewan, not supervised by railways and other interested parties, they would witness abominable conditions here."

"Go to Loon Lake, or to the Porcupine district, and see settlers living in sod shacks, their children starving and without proper clothing," he counselled them.

PLAN APPROVED
Rev. Dr. Charles Endicott of the United Church in Canada, endorsed the Hornby plan of immediately bringing settlers to Canada.

"I came to Canada broke," he began. He asserted that bringing settlers to Canada under the Hornby plan would in no way affect the progress or otherwise of the farmers already here.

"If the pioneers had waited for a sunny day to come to Canada, there would have been no Canada," Dr. Endicott stressed.

VARIETY NEEDED
Rev. W. G. Brown of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, agreed Canada needed more people, but was not certain the Dominion needed all British immigrants.

He warned against possible economic imperialism as equally degrading as economic nationalism. In his plea to better conditions here in order to attract immigrants by natural means.

John Evans, former M.P., representing the United Farmers, opposed immigration. He believed the time was not ripe for any plan of that nature.

LONDON RAPS TRADE PACTS

Canada - U.S. Reciprocity Agreement Attacked in Minneapolis Speech

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
New York, Sept. 25.—Agricultural regions of the United States today had the promise of Governor Alfred M. Landon that his election to the White House in November would mean protection of the domestic market for the domestic producer.

"The Republican nominee for the presidency yesterday evening charged in an address that the reciprocal trade programme of the Roosevelt administration 'delayed recovery for our farmers' and sold them 'down the river.'"

He delivered this speech in Minneapolis, hub of a rich dairy country and close to the Canadian border. He slammed at all reciprocity pacts worked by President Roosevelt, but singled out the agreement with "our very good friend Canada" for special mention. The dairy and cattle articles of the Canadian-United States pact received his heaviest attack.

ATTACKED BY PAPER
The New York Times (independent) reviewed the speech on its editorial page and said it was "a narrowly sectional and selfish as could be imagined." The newspaper decided it was meant "plainly to win the votes of dissatisfied farmers in the states along the Canadian border."

The Kansas governor stressed he was not opposed to reciprocal trade agreements, and was opposed to a policy of isolation. "We cannot afford to scrap our economic defences. We can be a good neighbor without giving away the latchkey to our door," he said.

He declared the Republican platform pledge "to protect the American farmer against the imports of all livestock, dairy and agricultural products . . . which will depress American prices."

Statement on Defence Urged

Canadian Corps Association Asks Federal Government to Declare PolicyCanadian Press
Toronto, Sept. 25.—The Canadian Corps Association at a special meeting yesterday evening asked the Dominion Government to declare its policy with reference to Canadian defence and empire responsibility.

The association, representing 185 former Canadian units and some 60,000 veterans, urged an "awakening" of the people by education to an understanding of "the present serious situation." It went on record as supporting an "adequate defence policy" and as undertaking "a nucleus of trained men" to defend "this country from the dangers which threaten our national and empire existence."

"We view with alarm," said the resolution on defence policy, "the apathy of the people of Canada to the world situation today. Despite

Urge Credit Be Maintained

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Sept. 25.—A definite and apparently increasing tendency in certain quarters to depart from that rigid honesty involving sanctity of all contracts and obligations, provincial, municipal and personal, has been noted by the association.

In a resolution passed yesterday at the closing session of the annual convention which expressed "gravest concern" in view of the trend, the association sought to "earnestly impress upon the federal government its profound seriousness."

Sanctity of all contracts and obligations in the past had been accepted everywhere as traditionally and characteristically Canadian, the resolution stated.

The federal government was urged to use its "full prerogative to maintain the credit and standing of all Canada because of the 'inevitable' consequences upon the credit and reputation of the country" of the departure from traditional and characteristic honesty observed, the resolution concluded.

A Queer World

ITEMS IN THE NEWS OF YESTER- day and today of international significance include the following: Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, British statesman who has worn coats of nearly every political color, comes out as an ardent bulwark of democracy. Salutations are due to him. To continue—there is then a French suggestion made at Geneva that there ought to be a League of Nations disarmament conference. Quite so, as long as disarmament be made the real business of such a conference.

Then Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said at Geneva this morning that his government, to condense it into a few words, wants less armament, that the whole-hearted co-operation of Great Britain could be counted upon in order that the League of Nations might be strengthened for the work it has to do, "both by the enlargement of its membership and by more confident loyalty of its members."

The items to which we have referred may stand alone. What every Tom, Dick, and Harry is thinking about, however, is what the statesmen of the world are also thinking about. One minute, so the man and the woman in the street naturally think, they stand on their toes and raise their voices to high heaven and send up full-chested declamations for disarmament, peace and goodwill to men, and so on, and in the next minute they again produce their verbal bludgeon and tell their next-door neighbor to "come on, I'm ready for you."

As we have recalled in these columns many times, the only practical proposal in behalf of disarmament was made by Maxim Litvinoff shortly after the abortive Disarmament Conference opened in Geneva more than four and a half years ago, when he said, so simply, that the only way to disarm was to disarm. Surely this ought to appeal to the people who foot the bills for the production of equipment which is manufactured—for profit, be it noted—and employed in the destruction of human lives and the dissipation of material treasure.

To Remain Ex-German

LIGHT ON THE PROBABLE OUT- come of the claim, now being renewed by Hitler, for the return to Germany of her colonies is shed by Mr. P. Bruchhausen, writing in the September issue of the English Geographical Magazine on the ex-German colony of Southwest Africa. This territory, now held as a mandate by the Union of South Africa, still contains more German inhabitants than all Germany's other colonies put together. As a South African of German stock, and a former member of the Union Administrator's staff, Mr. Bruchhausen speaks with sympathy and authority.

That the original South African colonizers were more German than Dutch, and that the present-day Boers, or Afrikaners, are naturally inclined to be pro-German in outlook, is one of the little-known facts brought out by the writer. Disapproval of General Botha's invasion of German Southwest Africa during the war, he recalls, went as far as armed protest on the part of other Boers. Nevertheless, the South African government now intimates that it cannot consent to a restoration of the colony to Germany, if for strategic reasons alone. On the contrary, the writer voices the strong opinion in South Africa that Southwest must eventually be amalgamated with the Union.

The Germans in their colony, even after it had been taken from them, have been race snobs, the article sets out. The utmost conciliation on the part of the new governors was met with offensive assumption of superiority of German over Boer. "The more the Administrator conceded, the more aggressive the Germans seemed to grow," the writer says. "Even the patience of so congenial a pro-German as General Herzog wore thin. There were police raid expulsions and shutting down of organizations. Recently, the South African government protested against the action of the German consul in Southwest in calling upon naturalized British subjects and South African nationals to register for military service under Hitler's new conscript laws."

In 1914, the Germans could look back upon less than a decade of unhampered colonization, states the writer, describing the stormy history of pacification of native tribes. In that time, however, they had built villages which compared favorably with many century-old villages elsewhere in Southern Africa, and had spent millions.

The country itself, seven times the size of Britain, is largely desert, with a diamond industry badly affected by the economic crisis. The farmer's life is arduous, and not more than 31,800 Europeans live in the area within the police zone, which comprises two-thirds of the total. Boers now form a majority of the population—a further reason why General Herzog's government finds itself unable to consider a return of the colony to Germany.

How Many More Volumes?

ACCORDING TO A CANADIAN Press staff writer in London, noting that Mr. Lloyd George's fifth volume of war memoirs was published the other day, the wiry little Welshman "shows no softening of its censure of Sir Douglas Haig (the late Earl Haig), British war-time Commander-in-Chief." It seems that the world's greatest tragedy has to be exploited by those who, for the most part, find it lucrative to write of the dead, challenge their judgment, and, generally, to pose as authorities on matters in which their training gave them little or no information.

It will soon be eighteen years since the last gun was fired on the Western Front. All that has been written in the intervening period naturally will be considered important historical data. But a lot of it will be just plain "muck"—which will not enrich, by any means, post-war literature as related to the great struggle.

He Perished—Politically

IT HAS BEEN STATED THAT when Mr. de Valera got firmly in the political saddle in the Irish Free State he would cut taxation by something like $10,000,000 a year. He has increased it by nearly three times that amount.

Says a commentator on this subject and its first cousin, unemployment: "Mr. de Valera also promised, as so many other politicians have, to do away with unemployment. The roll of the unemployed in the Free State has grown, and wages, except in some sheltered trades, remain miserably low."

This takes us back to the warm days of the summer of 1930 when Mr. Bennett—now enjoying himself in the southern seas—told the Canadian people from Victoria to Halifax that he would end unemployment or "perish in the attempt."

Mr. Bennett not only did not end unemployment, but, by his tinkering with Canada's fiscal policies, he increased it at least six-fold. Politically, therefore, he perished in his attempt to get back to power last year. The Canadian people "had his number."

War On Highway Death

SLOGANS ARE PLAYING A VITAL part in the campaign police here and in other cities are now waging to reduce the number of traffic accidents.

Chief Heatley's enterprise in trying to awaken the Victoria public to the need of care on the part of both motorists and pedestrians, and his steps to make drivers conscious of the fact that they should "always be careful as an accident may cost life," has interested us in the appeals being made elsewhere.

In Vancouver it is being drilled into the motorist "never to run a car faster than you can drive it" and the fact that "if you are nervous you are driving too fast."

Among the pointed slogans we have noted in use farther afield are:

"Don't try to beat any red lights around here."

"Spare a moment and spare a life."

"If all the children in this city were yours—we bet you'd be more careful."

"Just what is your hurry?"

We like particularly that last one because of its brevity with its suggestion of the futility and senselessness of life-endangering speed. The challenge of slogans, awakening the public's imagination, should be a powerful agent in the education campaign against the death that rides the highways.

A Commendable Work

NO LESS THAN 335 HALF-PINTS of milk a day is sent to the public schools of Victoria to build up—and in some cases, literally to sustain—undernourished children.

This nourishment plays a part in heading off the development of cases of tuberculosis and other deficiency diseases in youth. Without considering the more important factor of human suffering and economic loss, these are cases that would eventually come into our hospitals and other state institutions to be cared for at the cost of the public.

This preventive work carried out through adding a daily supply of milk to the diet of weakling children is maintained by the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter I.O.O.F. During the last seventeen years the chapter has raised and expended more than $32,000 for milk alone.

It has been an undertaking on the part of the chapter that has been very much in the public interest. The public generally should be anxious to aid the chapter in this. It will be afforded the opportunity of doing so tomorrow, when under Regent Mrs. Hudson, the members of the chapter will hold a tag day to gather money to continue their work.

Notes

Canada will have bilingual currency in 1937, in spite of the ancient belief that the present money talks in any language.

After all, it comes pretty much down to what Mr. Raymond Moley says: "A politician is simply a broker of ideas; he sells the public what it wants."

Lexicographers may proclaim, until they are blue in the face, that bread is needed, dough kneaded, but the man in the street will still think he needs dough.

Herr Hitler declares: "We feel ourselves bound to all countries which follow the same impulses as we." In other words, he agrees with those who think he is God's anointed.

If no embarrassing mention is made of the Ethiopian affair Italy will co-operate at sessions of the League of Nations. And it would be difficult to embarrass a man who could be nonchalant when caught robbing a crippled beggar in broad daylight.

"Some day," says Burris Jenkins, "we shall make it a scientific obligation to find out the things for which young people are adapted instead of cramming them into corners where they do not belong."—Into corners or onto corners, Mr. Jenkins?

LOOSE ENDS

The bride had better pay no attention to this dangerous advice—the idols make a mistake in remaining too long.—The Times complains about gold in 1836—soon we won't need it—and a parasite is observed.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

TO THE BRIDE

THE AMERICAN Automobile Association asserts in a profound statement this week that the best guide to a man's character is the way he drives a car. Let the prospective bride drive with her man through a traffic jam, says the association, and she will soon see by his behavior whether he has a violent temper, nerves, timidity, manners, sportsmanship.

This is all very true for, once off a sidewalk and behind a hundred-horse-power engine, a man seems to lapse into his native barbarism, and gentlemen who would offer their seats to a lady in a street car, will screech their horns at her, ding her mudguard or curse her roundly once they get hold of a steering wheel. This is the evil influence of the machine, wholly alien thing, on the human spirit. Give the world enough machinery, so that every man can command several thousand horsepower, and I have no doubt we shall revert entirely to the ways of the jungle, like a lot of the lower-grade baboons running madly about in a huge power house.

For this reason, the advice of the American Automobile Association is bad. No bride should drive through a traffic jam with her man because if she does, she will never marry him at all. No matter how perfect the fellow may be, his lower nature is bound to show itself in a traffic jam, his tiny spot of original sin is sure to come to the surface and he is certain to employ language which no woman except a stenographer has ever heard. (If the girl is a stenographer, of course, she can give the man instruction in this art.)

Thus, if a man does behave perfectly in a traffic jam, or if, worse still, he can keep his temper while trying to teach his girl to drive, then you may be sure he is a liar and a deceiver. Certainly he is not normal, probably a case of arrested development. Or he has trained himself for this sort of thing with matrimony in view. Most likely he is a bigamist.

CLUB OR AXE

THE CHORUS of sorrow—more-than-anger which has met Mr. Lloyd George's conversion to German Fascism suggests that another idol has definitely fallen. When you look about the world today and see how briefly idols endure nowadays, how completely they fall, into what fine dust their reputation is ground in the course of a few years, it is discouraging. It makes a man hesitate to run for the school board or the Sanitation Council.

Before Lloyd George there was Ramsay MacDonald, now a kind of handsome wrath, which was once Prime Minister of England and the hope of the world. There is Jim Thomas in disgrace, and Philip Snowden, kicked upstairs into the Lords. President Hoover is an obscure trout fisherman. Where is Harry Stevens? And who knows the names of Mr. Bennett's cabinet a year after his departure?

The most pathetic are those who linger on, like Mr. Lloyd George, still trying to appear to be in the parade, still creating a noisy and unpleasant disturbance in the rear long after the march has passed them. Like the wise prize fighter, they should retire in their prime before their strength has failed, before they are knocked out completely.

Anyone who has drawn a picture knows how, after a certain time, too much labor will spoil the whole thing, mar the original freshness. As a great art critic once said, there should be a standing behind every artist as he works and he should hit the canvas before the head with a club as soon as the picture is finished, before he can spoil it. Some similar arrangement should be provided for statesmen. In their case an axe should be provided.

OLD WAIL

IN THE LONDON TIMES of September 22, 1836, just a hundred years ago, appeared an editorial wail which seems rather funny today. It complained of the operations of the Bank of England because "a party in Leeds requiring gold for a Bank of England note took it for their purpose to the branch of that town," but it was refused because the note had been issued in Manchester. The practice then was to give gold for notes only if presented to the branch at which they were originally issued. "To call bank-notes a legal tender in such a state of things," said the Times, "is ridiculous."

You wonder what the editors of The Times in that era would think if they could see the legal tender today. You can't get gold for it, no matter where you present it. You can't even hoard gold if you own it. Everybody is off the gold standard, but the curious thing is that the arrangement works. Gold has ceased to be an essential of a sane monetary system, as everybody who could do simple arithmetic knew it would. The old Times editors would be amazed to see how many nations get on without gold while others, like the United States, dare not use the gold they have, dare not issue against it the old established amount of currency, lest they have inflation.

We are now getting into the era of managed currency based on business, what the traffic will stand, instead of on gold which now has only a remote relation to business. Soon gold will be used only to pay debts to nations which won't accept our managed currency. Then it will cease largely to be used for that as international debts are paid in goods, as they ultimately must be.

In fact, if we are intelligent enough, gold will soon be useful only for filling teeth and, on account of its low price, will be widely used for decorating car radiators, kitchen sinks and bathtubs. It is a poor outlook for such worthy enterprises as our Golden Calf Mine, which should come into production about the time gold ceases to be worth anything.

PARASITE

THE LITTLE BOY from next door has been showing his new girl friend about this district. He paused just now outside my window and, pointing a fat, grimy finger in my direction, said: "See him? Well, you know all the work he does to make a living? He just sits there all day and hits that thing he has and it makes words on the paper there and then he goes out and sells the paper to a newspaper. I don't know what they want it for."

"Goosh," said his girl friend, "my daddy has to work for a living. He works in a brewery."

"He," said the little boy from next door, pointing at me, "never works for a living at all. Just sits there making words on the paper."

YES-MEN—NOT YET

The speech of bachelors isn't like that of some other men we know. The former don't keep saying: "Yes, my dear."

FABLE

Then she married the boy and her mother didn't fret and fume about the way they managed their affairs.

Pear Harvest

By ANDY McNAB

A WEE while back one of the waines fetched in a pear which had dropped, and there was a gran' fight and a scramble over it. A day or two after that they fetched in another, and then another fight. The next day the same, and mair fights and mair squabbles. It went on fur about a week, just fights an' squabbles over pears. An' then the pears begun tae faa quicker than they could fight.

Says I tae Muggy, "We want them pears tae keep—we mun haul them doon."

So I fetched the steps an' Muggy cum oot tae hud them steady. The pears begun tae faa a wee bit faster an' I was dinging the steps. Yin o' them gled Muggy a bit rap o' the heed an' she sat doon sudden like. I didna hear whit she said, an' maybe it was just as weel seeing I cum frae God-fearin' folk myself.

I was shakin' wi' the excitement, an' huddin' on tae the steps like sheer deeth when yin o' the pears gled me a whang i' the lug, an' anither a whack o' the shoulder. I left the steps standin' an' cum doon on the top o' Muggy—she kin' o' broke the faa. A shower o' pears cum doon an' I kep'it them frae faasing on Muggy.

Wee Willie was lookin' oot o' the window an' I heard him shout out, "Cum quick an' see Father fightin' wi' Mother over the pears."

Weel we gathered coorsele up an' Muggy said she had the washing tae tak in an she couldna help any mair. The waines were askin' fur something tae eat.

"Have a pear," says I, an' then they began tae greet.

"We dinna want a pear," see they—When I looked in for a bit dinner the next day there was Muggy sittin' on a heap o' pears an' that waines a' squintin' round an' they were a' blown up wi' eatin' pears fur a' that would like a lot o' fat puddicks.

"Is there any dinner?" see I. "That's fur Muggy. If you want any dinner you can eat pears."

I fetched in anither basket fu' an' all the shelves were covered wi' pears an' the floor was covered, an' the table was chock a block wi' pears.

"I'm seek o' pears," see Muggy. "That's fur Muggy. If you want any dinner you can eat pears."

"The Lord's bounty," see I. "The Lord would say the same thing if he had his hoose a' mucked up wi' rotten pears," see Muggy.

Weel, the pears are still fallin'. All my freends an' all ma enemies had pears. If I meet a man he crosses the street fur fear I shud ask him tae have a pear. The waines wunna eat any mair an' I'm fair bustin' wi' them myself, an' the pears o' the table are turning rotten. Aie, it's been a plentiful harvest.

SUKKOTH

RICH IN tradition the Jewish Feast of Booths or Sukkoth as it is known in Hebrew, will be observed this year for eight days, beginning at sundown Wednesday, September 30. The eighth day is known as the Feast of Conclusion, and on the following day the Feast of Rejoicing in the Law is observed.

In biblical times Sukkoth was an agricultural festival. It was the occasion for Jews to make a pilgrimage to Jerusalem, there to lay sacrifices on the altar of the temple and to sing hymns of praise and thanksgiving to God for His bounty.

The destruction of the temple and the disappearance of sacrifice as a form of worship brought changes in the observance of the holiday, but the spirit of the festival has not changed. Observant Jews still build a Sukkah or small booth, in their yards, where they sit during this week. It is intended to be a reminder of the time when the Jews lived in such booths during their forty years of wandering in the desert and of God's goodness to them. The Sukkahs are decorated with fruits and foliage of the fall season to symbolize God's loving kindness. The synagogue, too, is decorated with fruits and flowers, the palm branch or lulab as it is called in Hebrew, with citron or etes throg, sprigs of fragrant myrtle, and boughs of the willow tree. All these represent the harvest character of the festival.

Sukkoth is also marked in Reform Temples by a ceremony of consecration in which young children are formally inducted into the religious school, with emphasis placed upon the thought of God's goodness as manifest in the gifts which the Sukkoth season brings to the world.

PERFECTION

VOCAL RECITAL IS ENJOYED

Madame Lugin-Fahey Is Warmly Received on Return to City

By G. J. D.

Madame Winnifred Lugin-Fahey gave unquestionable delight last evening in her vocal recital at the Empire Theatre. Many times she recalled and must have felt gratified in the ensuing enthusiasm that prevailed throughout by her musical friends with whom she was in past years associated.

Artist as she is to her finger-tips, her songs live and breathe in their superb interpretations, her well-nigh faultless demonstrations of her ample scale, and evidences of earnest and painstaking preparation. Beautiful is her diction, her pianissimo was surprisingly attained, and a mistress is she in the art of projecting her generously-volumed voice with an artistry seldom equaled.

Her somewhat unconventional and well-arranged programme began with Bach's air from Cantata 51, "We Worship In The Holy Temple," passed to the wonderful pathos in "God Is My Shepherd," by Dvorak, and next offered the famous operatic number, "Fare You No Good," from "La Forza del Destino" (Verdi).

A group of English songs, beginning with "I've Been Roaming" (Horn), followed by Stanford's "Sea Wrack," the entrancing song by Armstrong Gibbs, "Silver," the same composer's "To One Who Passed Whistling Through the Night," brimful of sentiment, and the fine song, "Home," by Davies, "Call Her Herring" following in a recall number.

Two German lieder by Schumann followed, the ever popular "Widmung" ("Dedication"), and "Der Stussum," Hahn's haunting "Si Mes Vers Avaient des Ailes" so beautifully expressed that its immediate repetition was demanded. Pour-drain's "Papillon" ("Butterfly") and Tchaikovsky's somewhat serious "Was I Not a Blade of Grass."

The programme concluded with the group, Mollo's famous "Kerry Dance" and three colorful pictorial songs by herself. On the bridge song, "I Will Love You Always," a very pretty "Gracie Song," and the "dreams that came through" as expressed by herself, with the title "I've Wandered O'er the Hillsides." Four recalls followed, which included another song by Mme. Lugin-Fahey, again giving manifest of good vocal possibilities in her song writings.

NATIVE SONS FOR DEFENCE

Resolution Passed by Victoria Branch Supports Defence League of Canada

The action of the Defence League of Canada in agitating for proper defences of the Dominion's coasts was endorsed last night at a meeting of the Victoria branch of the Native Sons of Canada.

The need for an adequately equipped Canadian militia was stressed in the resolution reading as follows:

"Whereas the National Council of the Native Sons of Canada believes in the desirability of an adequately equipped Canadian militia for defence purposes, and

"Whereas the Defence of Canada League has been organized for the purpose of bringing the attention of the Canadian people to the defenceless condition of the Canadian coast frontiers, and to urge the Canadian government to provide proper defences,

"It is resolved, therefore, that this Victoria Assembly No. 1 Native Sons of Canada endorses the aims and objects of the Defence of Canada League, and wishes it every success in its endeavors for the good and welfare of Canada as a part of the British Commonwealth of Nations."

Air Conditioning Health Aspect

By JANE STAFFORD

AIR-CONDITIONING in normal life was given approval here by Prof. Philip Drinker of the Harvard School of Public Health. Comfort and efficiency rather than health protection are the points on which Prof. Drinker based his favorable rating. He spoke at the symposium on environment being held here as part of the Harvard Tercentenary celebration.

The health benefits of air-conditioning for the normal person have yet to be proved. Prof. Drinker indicated. Commercial air-filters, claimed to catch air-borne germs, gave "very poor results" when tested in the Harvard laboratories.

"Air-conditioning more than justifies itself in simply making the atmosphere more comfortable than it otherwise would be," Prof. Drinker declared. "Better work is done in moderate, pleasant atmospheres than under extremes of any sort. Success of any industrial process depends on environment control. In our opinion, such reasons are enough and the engineer should not ask the hygienist or physician for data which cannot be supplied."

Prof. Drinker questioned whether air-conditioning should be advocated from a health standpoint because of the greater cleanliness it provides. There is no proof, he explained, that breathing cleaner air makes us healthier. The air in ordinary living conditions is not like the air in the dust-free trading houses, contain particles of injurious silica.

Much can be made, however, of the beneficial effect of air-conditioning on hay fever, Prof. Drinker said. Medical evidence shows that air-conditioning or simple filtering reduces the amount of pollen in the air to the point where the patient is relieved or even completely freed of his symptoms.

Prof. Drinker also gave a tip to the proprietor of store, restaurant or theatre who has installed air-conditioning. It takes about three hours for a person to become accustomed to changes in temperature and environment, and sudden changes are uncomfortable. In a restaurant or theatre, where the patron will stay less than three hours, there should not be too much difference between the outside and inside temperatures. Banks and stores need to be even warmer than theatres. When the outdoor temperature is 95 degrees Fahrenheit, it should be 80 degrees indoors in a place where the occupants will stay only from one to three hours. This, with the relative humidity at 45 per cent, will give the effect of a temperature of 73 degrees.

Efforts at deodorization of air have not been very successful. Prof. Drinker described methods that would take care of different types of odors, but the methods are not practicable at present. It seems nothing can be done about tobacco smoke and not even air-conditioning removes the odor of the smoking car on a train, for example. Air-conditioning, however, is very effective for reducing body odors, Prof. Drinker said. He also commented on its value in museums or homes with valuable furnishings.

New York City consumes more milk one pint daily per head of population than any other city in the world. Following it are Hamburg, Germany; Copenhagen, Berlin, London and Paris.

FABRIC MADE FROM RAW MEAT

By Science Service

Berlin.—Raw meat is the newest item on the German "Erstaz" list, to replace part of the costly imports of wool and other fabric material.

But a suit of raw meat clothes is not as gory to wear and look at as it sounds. Carnoffi, as the new fibre is called, comes from the hands of German chemists and fabric technologists looking and feeling very much like good ordinary woolen cloth.

Carnoffi depends on the "stringiness" of meat, a property we all have noticed—usually with annoyance—when we get a piece of beef from a cow that reached too venerable an age for the butcher's tenderloin. Cooks try to mitigate this stringiness by various means, and save the juicy part of the meat. In making Carnoffi the exact opposite is sought; the juicy part is dissolved away by chemical treatment and the dried fibres are then meshed together to render them more flexible.

Carnoffi is a coined, semi-Latin word, meaning "meat; thread."

Deaf To His Own Music

Viennese society was glorifying the young genius, Ludwig van Beethoven, great pianist and composer. Born in 1770, he had appeared as a "prodigy" at the age of six. For twenty-four years he revelled in the rewards of fame.

Then, at the age of thirty, the great musician began to lose his hearing. He became irritable and drew away from society. He shut himself from all except his closest friends. But he continued composing symphonies, sonatas and other forms of music that remain among the finest masterpieces in musical history.

He was almost alone deaf when he wrote his great "Ninth" Symphony, and in the last miserable seven of his fifty-six years he is said to have produced his best work. He wrote fewer pieces than the great Mozart, who taught him, but nearly every one of his selections was a finished composition. He died in 1827, a bachelor, honored and mourned by the world.

Austria included his picture in a set of stamps issued in 1922. (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Amongst the mineral oils used nowadays are mineral oil, and mineral oil modified by various substances. This oil is a lubricant which relieves constipation by mixing with the material in the bowel, softening it and permitting easier passage along the intestinal tract.

It is generally considered to be the best preparation in cases of chronic constipation. It is not fattening as are other oils, because it is not absorbed by the bowels. The usual dose is one tablespoonful or two.

Incidentially, mineral oil also is the basis for Dr. M. Fishbein's most spraying materials used in the nose in the presence of colds or inflammation.

Sometimes mineral oil is modified by the addition of strong laxative materials, such as cascara and phenolphthalein. Cascara is a plant laxative made from the bark of a tree. It is available not only mixed with mineral oil and agar, but also in the form of extracts and aromatic mixtures.

Phenolphthalein is a recently discovered laxative now widely popularized as the basis of most advertised laxative remedies.

This substance, which is a coal tar derivative, acts on the large intestines as a purgative. Some people are especially sensitive to phenolphthalein and respond to its use with eruptions on the skin.

It is not safe to develop the cathartic or laxative habit. Constipation, as will be pointed out later in this series, is much better treated by determining its causes and eliminating them, and also by use of enough fluid and enough fruits, vegetables and similar laxative material in the diet.

Severe and chronic cases of constipation should not be self-treated. Much quicker and safer results will be secured by consulting a competent physician.

LUXTON
About sixty residents of the Luxton and Happy Valley districts on Tuesday afternoon assembled in Luxton Hall for a miscellaneous shower for Miss Etta McLeod, whose marriage will take place shortly. The tea tables were attractive with pink and lavender dahlias, asters, corns and sweet peas. Mrs. J. Trace wished the bride-elect every happiness in the future, to which Miss McLeod responded.

Out-of-town and Victoria guests included Mrs. D. Kreier, Humboldt, Sask.; Mesdames W. Duncan, M. Elliott, N. Haves and E. Baxter. Mrs. A. Hankin presented Miss McLeod with a corsage bouquet. Mes-

New Paganism Is Attacked

Associated Press
Rome, Sept. 25.—Speaking in seven languages, Cardinal Pacelli, Papal Secretary of State, yesterday called for a world crusade in the Catholic press against New Paganism.

He inaugurated the International Congress of Catholic Journalists. The new paganism, he said, "is producing the same state of low world morals and dedication to materialism" as flourished in the time of pagan Rome.

HEAR PLEA FOR ISLAND MINES

J. O. Nicholls Says B.C. Could Burn More of Its Own Coal

Rotarians at luncheon yesterday heard a plea for Vancouver Island's coal industry put in simple language by a man whose work is in the Nanaimo mines—J. O. Nicholls, vice-president of the Island Chamber of Mines and Commerce and a member of the B.C. Economic Council.

"If the requirements of British Columbia were entirely met from British Columbia mines, 800,000 more tons of coal would have been mined in the last year," he told the club. "Every time you buy a ton of coal you create dollars that travel faster than Albert's velocity dollars, so fast that you would get dizzy trying to watch them."

"Every time you buy one ton of coal you keep one man employed for one day."

"What Nanaimo needs is not a slogan, but a plan."

Mr. Nicholls said that the payroll in Nanaimo mines had fallen from $6,000,000 in 1929 to less than $2,000,000 today, and added: "That $4,000,000 loss is borne not by Nanaimo alone, but by all British Columbia."

"Any shrinkage in the coal mining industry means a loss of purchasing power and a shrinkage in the economic life of British Columbia."

HISTORY OF COAL

The speaker traced the history of coal mining from the time of the first definite records, 700 years ago, to the present day, telling of changing methods in changing circumstances, and the complications of present-day operation.

Among interesting facts that he mentioned were the following: The first shipment of coal left the Tyneside in 1269.

In 1435 the man who later became Pope Pius II visited Scotland and returned home to tell of beggars who asked for "black stones to burn." Eighty-five years ago Indians who came down to Victoria from Nanaimo brought tales of "black rock that burns."

In the fifteenth century the salt refining industry was the greatest customer of the coal miners in England. In the early history of Nanaimo the case was almost the same. Women and girls were employed in mines until not so very long ago. Mr. Nicholls himself knew a man who had been born underground in a mine.

Canada has 16 per cent of the world's total coal reserves, yet produces only 1 per cent of the world's output.

At Nanaimo it is possible to walk through mine roads underneath the harbor to Protection Island, then beneath the Gap to Newcastle Island.

Mr. Nicholls was introduced by Lieut.-Col. J. R. Kingham, and thanked by Frank I. Doherty, president of the club.

Colin Murray Forrest was introduced as a new member by George MacDonald.

OFFER HELP TO CAMPAIGN

Britannia Branch Offers Support in Safety Programme

Displaying their willingness to co-operate with matters pertaining to the welfare of the city, the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., at an executive meeting held Tuesday evening, decided to communicate with Chief of Police Thomas Heatley, offering their support in the safety campaign the police department is conducting.

Members of the executive expressed themselves as 100 per cent in favor of the move to protect school children from the dangers of highway traffic passing schools and commended the chief on his efforts to try and eliminate this menace.

In a letter to the police head, the branch offers to provide traffic patrols for one school in the city for one month at their own expense. If Chief Heatley is in accord with the suggestion he will be asked to address a gathering of members at the branch headquarters, giving them instructions on how to conduct the patrols.

She was strangled in this robe when an intruder invaded her room a week ago today and strangled her after

Nanaimo Bridal Pair On Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Mills of Nanaimo, caught by the photographer at the Empress Hotel yesterday morning on the first stage of their honeymoon trip to Seattle and the Sound cities. Miss Mary O'Connell Is Bride Of Mr. Hubert Fogden

A wedding of interest to friends in Victoria and Nanaimo was solemnized Wednesday morning at St. Andrew's Cathedral at 9 o'clock, when Rev. Father Guehenue united in marriage Mary Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connell of this city, and Hubert, eldest son of Mr. Fogden and the late Mrs. Fogden of Nanaimo.

The bride entered the church to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss M. MacKay. Solos during the nuptial mass were rendered by Messrs. T. White and D. Mulcahy. The church was beautifully decorated with Michaelmas daisies, gladioli and other autumn flowers in pastel shades, by friends of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a charming gown of blue silk with blue and yellow flowers of velvet. She wore elbow-length gloves of yellow lace and carried a bouquet of pale pink carnations and anemones. During the signing of the register, Miss MacKay played Gounod's "Ave Maria."

Reception Held For Newly-weds

Colwood Hall was effectively decorated with masses of autumn flowers and foliage, streamers and wedding bells, on Wednesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Piercy entertained at a post-nuptial reception in honor of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. McPherson, who were quietly married at First United Church, Nanaimo, on September 12, and who are now residing at 459 Obed Avenue, Victoria.

The guests, who numbered about 125, were received by the host and hostess and Mrs. Piercy's mother, Mrs. Campbell of Chicago, assisted by the bride and groom. Entertaining was enjoyed, the orchestra playing both modern and old-time tunes.

At the buffet supper, which was served from the prettily decorated table, centred with the three-tiered wedding cake, Mr. P. Wilfert proposed the toast to the bride, and presented the young couple with a handsome standard lamp from the directors of the Esquimalt Lumber Company, and Mr. W. A. Walker presented them with a case of silver on behalf of the employees of the same concern. The bridegroom suitably acknowledged the toast, and the gifts.

Out-of-town guests at the affair included Mr. and Mrs. Ned McPherson of Nanaimo and Mr. W. Moore of Vancouver.

Opening Night At Y.W.C.A. Success

Over 250 Girls Enjoy Clever Play; Programme Presented

About 250 girls attended the very successful Opening Night at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday, when "Rehearsal at 7," a clever allegory of a distracted director attempting to assemble her cast for a rehearsal of a Y.W.C.A. production was presented.

The part of the director, Miss Penn, was well taken by Valerie Monteith; "Peace," a stormy socialistically-minded character, was well done by Mary Grafton; Rosina, the self-assured girl who feels that she is the only one capable of doing the leading part in any play well, was taken by Violet Mylrea. Mrs. Hastings, the ultra-superior woman, a Y committee member, who has conspired to take part in the play only to find that her maid has the leading role in the same performance, was excellently portrayed by Blanche Corlette. Mrs. Hastings' maid and the central figure, the spirit of the Y.W.C.A., guides the play to a well-timed and dramatic closing by bridging the chasm between War and Peace, and the play ends on a note of harmony because of the co-operation between the girls in the various departments in the Y.W.

Great credit must be given to Mrs. Rumball, who has again so effectively directed the performance. Miss Dolly Barker directed the "Live Y'er Medley," which consisted of three songs, "Wooded and Won," "Down by the Old Mill Stream" and a "Song of Woe," was both colorful and humorous.

PROGRAMME REVIEWED

Mrs. W. E. Cushing, the general secretary, presented the interest group programme. Later registrations indicated a great deal of interest in the craft club. In this group the girls will learn weaving, clay modelling, soft wood carving, etc. The dramatic club is to be directed by Mrs. E. W. Hetherington and the camera club is also popular.

Unfortunately for many girls, the home nursing class has reached its capacity membership, but it is hoped for those who were disappointed that another class will be organized after Christmas.

Miss Margaret Ryan outlined particulars in the gym department. An afternoon and evening badminton club for beginners, a "pop" gym class and a "not-so-active" class were mentioned among the activities.

The five self-governed clubs already organized are making enthusiastic plans and will welcome new members. Miss Violet Mylrea, president of the play department, extended a greeting to the new girls and welcomed old members back.

Mrs. Richard Felton, girls' convener, presided during the evening. The refreshments were served under the convener'ship of Mrs. A. J. Stevenson from a prettily appointed table in the lounge.

Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter. There will be no meeting of the Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter on Monday as Mrs. L. A. Genge is giving her report that night at 8:30 o'clock at the Angela before those chapters which she represented at the annual meeting of the National Chapter in June.

Miss Ruth A. Hanson, who will shortly become the bride of Mr. Cecil Chaffield, B.A., was the guest of honor at a linen shower given on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Diggon, 2882 Parkview Drive. Among the assembled guests were the bride-elect's colleagues on the staff of Diggon-Hibbert Limited, the wives of members of the staff, and others, including representatives from Victoria City Temple, with which Miss Hanson is actively associated. The gifts were presented in an original and somewhat startling manner, which created much merriment and, in the case of the recipient, no little discomfort. Games and novel contests were enjoyed during the evening; songs being rendered with much acceptance by Mrs. G. A. A. Hebdon. Later, a dainty buffet-supper was served from a prettily decorated table, the predominant feature of which was a dainty silver basket containing pastel-tinted blossoms and embellished with silver streamers. Mrs. G. A. A. Hebdon presided at the table. The invited guests were Messrs. H. M. Diggon, J. Elder, D. Gardner, G. A. A. Hebdon, J. Hammond, Arnold Johnson, G. Langley, A. L. Oakley, E. G. Porter, A. ### Many Gifts for Pound Party

AMONGST the public sympathy with the splendid rescue work carried on at the W.C.T.U. Home was the generous response which greeted the annual pound party at the 1st Street institution yesterday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. D. G. Sabiston, with Mrs. Wm. Grant and Mrs. C. Courtney, charter members of the board, received the guests. Miss E. Gill, the treasurer, and Mrs. F. W. Laing were in charge of the donations.

Tea was served in the dining-room and in the reception rooms, which had been attractively decorated with lovely autumn flowers. Those presiding at the tea table were Miss Agnes Spencer, Mrs. Oliver Brown, Mrs. William Russell, Mrs. A. Sabiston and Mrs. C. Sabiston.

The matron and assistant matron, Mrs. E. F. Berrill and Mrs. Jean Robertson, assisted at the tea hour and later conducted the guests over the home. ## Fine Opening Of Beaux-Arts

Last night about 125 young people, including old members and prospective members, attended the opening meeting of the Beaux Arts at their clubrooms in the Crystal Garden. A very fine programme was enjoyed and included a one-act comedy, "The Soup and the Savory," directed by Mrs. J. Barracough. Those forming the Fine Arts were as follows: Emily, Hope Denbigh, Ada, Mary Lindgren; the cook, Gladys Bayley. R. Muirhead acted as stage manager.

Following the play a very fine musical programme was rendered. Mr. Richard George, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Edgar Holloway, and Miss Honor Benson also rendered two charming solos, accompanied by her mother. Following this a Russian dance, directed by Miss Mathew Grue, completed the programme. Those taking part were Misses Babe Pennock and Faith Cuming.

A short business meeting was held with the president, Miss Helen Sweetland presiding. In her opening remarks she welcomed the patrons and old members, and expressed the desire that many of the new faces would be with the club as members. Several reports by the secretary and treasurer were read, and the balance of the evening was spent in dancing and enjoying refreshments.

SEEKS COUNCIL SEAT

Halifax, Sept. 25 (Canadian Press).—Mrs. M. T. Sullivan, social worker, hopes to be the first woman to sit in the Halifax city council. She will contest the ward three seat made vacant by the resignation of Alderman J. F. McManus, and her nomination papers have already been signed by Mayor Cragg and prominent aldermen.

"I was selected by the Local Council of Women," she said in a brief statement. "Since women have the voting power, I do not think there is anything wrong in being the first woman to enter civic government."

"For privacy and convenience there's nothing like an extension telephone in the bedroom," says the chap pictured above.

"When there are other folks within earshot of the main telephone, I don't have to air my private conversation in front of everybody."

"But I think the greatest advantage is when the telephone rings late at night. I don't have to gallop madly downstairs in the dark and cold. I just reach out and answer it, without leaving my bed."

BEACH CLUB GIRL

CHAPTER XLVIII

The three well-dressed people in new traveling clothes rode across the wide, jagged streets of the city. Mrs. Raeburn, smart and flushed in her brown tailored suit, leaned forward to peer out of the taxi.

"Chicago," she said triumphantly. "Why, it's just like New York—noise and all. But smokier."

Mr. Raeburn glanced about him with interest. When he alighted from the cab at the concourse of the other station he dragged his bag just a little. Otherwise he was a sturdy enough looking elderly man in neat grey, with a camera slung on a leather strap over his shoulder. The slim girl in blue with the two elder people was rather silent. She smiled when they spoke to her, but her bright amber-flecked eyes had a far-away look about them.

She went off to buy magazines and her mother said, with some perplexity and dissatisfaction: "Well, I declare, I don't know what we're coming to. One minute she isn't coming with us and the next she is. I haven't yet got over the shock of having her tell me she wasn't going to marry Edward Van Seiver."

"Oh, stop fretting, mother. You know you're delighted she's with us, instead of half way across the Atlantic."

"Of course, I am. Of course, I am. But I can't make the child out. She seems to be going around about half awake."

Boots's return interrupted this colloquy. She had two bright-colored periodicals under her arm and the morning edition of a New York newspaper.

"Look, darlings, will wonders never end?"

She showed them the headlines over a smiling photograph of Edward "Scion of Wealth"

Marries His Nurse "Sa. Olympic at sea," the story read. "Edward Houghton Van Seiver, only son of H. B. Van Seiver of Amalgamated Steel, was married today aboard ship to Miss Veronica Mary Kerrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kerrigan of Staten Island. Miss Kerrigan has been Mr. Van Seiver's nurse ever since he was injured in a serious motor accident two months ago."

"Well, I never!" Mrs. Raeburn looked indignant. "So that was what he was up to!"

Boots laughed. A cheerful sound it was in the big vaulted room. Two or three people turned to watch her rosy young face with interest.

"Oh, Mums, you know it was nothing of the kind," she protested. "You know we just decided we weren't suited to each other."

Her maternal parent sniffed incredulously. "Looks like it."

"I'm terribly glad," the girl mused, half to herself. "He's such a darling, and I know she was terribly fond of him. These rich men's sons never know whether they're being married for themselves alone. No I mean it," she finished, smiling again at her mother's offended expression.

"Well, think you lack the proper feelings in the matter, that's all," Mrs. Raeburn said, mollified but not wishing to show it. It was a mercy, she thought privately, that the engagement hadn't been announced; people did gossip so. There were plenty of them, at that, who knew Edward had been attentive to Barbara and who would be only too willing to talk. Not that they could say she'd been jilted, though. She was an heiress now. No one in Larchmont could look down his nose at the Raeburns.

The porter came back just then and took charge of their bags. The elder people settled themselves comfortably in their drawing room. The train was to leave in twenty minutes and Mr. Raeburn, according to habit, settled himself, comfortably, for a nap. Boots, feeling that old stifled restlessness burning within her, sought the platform of the observation car.

Now that she was alone she could give herself up reservedly to her thoughts. The last week had been crowded with tasks, with the excitement of packing and departure. Denis—Denis—Denis! He was somewhere out in the great world, far from her. But he loved her. She was putting miles between them with every breath that she drew, but perhaps one day—maybe not before she was very old—she would lift her eyes and see him smiling down at her.

Started out of her dream, she heard her name spoken in an incredulous undertone.

"Boots! Or am I dreaming?"

Ecstasy, ecstasy! If I open my eyes, she thought, I'll be awake. His voice has never been so real in a dream before.

But she was awake. The smell of city dust and the smoke from puffing engines, the clangor of the city sounded all about her. Waveringly she opened her eyes. There before her stood the man who had been occupying her thoughts. He was leaner than she remembered him. His dark, odd blue eyes were that puzzled little boy from his knee who knew so well.

"Boots!" He said it again, lingeringly. "It really is you!"

Then he was in the little collapsible chair beside her and his lean nervous fingers were braced around her own. She was laughing shakily and saying that of course it was. What did he think?

"I thought," he paused and steadied himself, "I thought you were on the high seas now—and married."

"You haven't—haven't seen the papers?"

"What? No, I haven't."

She had the clipping in her bag; Edward's picture. She put it into his hand.

"But I don't see. He didn't..."

"No, of course. He didn't. . . ."

"What? No, I haven't."

"It was," she added demurely, "in the pages of some book he was reading. 'The Murder of Maria'—something like that."

"Ah!" He reddened, comprehension lighting his eyes. He leaned closer. "You—your little devil, you!"

"Why didn't you—?" she stammered, overcome by the flood of exquisite emotion which threatened to engulf her. "Why didn't you mail it to me, Denis?"

"You mean—you mean you broke up with him because of me?"

She nodded.

"Oh, my darling!"

There was a long, murmurous interlude then, during which the man said things for her ear only. Porters ran the length of the cement strip of platform, bells clanged and engines whistled; grimy men hung out of engine cabs and shouted cryptic nothings to others below. The train moved. Two or three staid people with novels in their hands came to the door of the observation platform and looked curiously at the young people sitting so close together there.

Boots and Denis were oblivious to all of this. Their train ran past factories, past bridges and signals. It ran rhythmically past roundhouses and towers and clicked over the ties past shabby houses with chicken coops and metal roofed garages. Boots and Denis were in Arcady; their hands linked, their ardent faces close together, they wandered in sweet scented fields where only bright-flecked flowers grew.

"And you're going to California, too," she murmured after a long interval. "I can't believe it."

"We'll be married as soon as we get there," he said. "No good waiting more time. We've done enough of that already."

He had a place near San Jose. It was just a small ranch—a mere fifty acres, he told her deprecatingly. It had a comfortable old house on it. They'd live there half the year while he worked. Then New York the rest of the time.

"I can't give you what Edward would have," he told her. But she had her hand upon his lips, silencing them.

"What I can't understand is how you happen to be on this train just now," she marvelled. "I thought you were on the South Sea."

He had taken a fruit boat, he told her, bound for San Domingo. But he'd been eaten by a fever of restlessness. He'd got off at Charleston and stayed there a few days, trying to play, trying to work. Nothing had seemed right. He had taken a train for Chicago.

"And now—this!"

They stared at each other, overcome with the wonder of it all.

Mrs. Raeburn, passing through the last car in a rather anxious search for Boots, a differential trainman in her wake, paused as though suddenly struck dumb.

"See the young lady?" the official prompted cheerfully.

"Yes, I—I see her. Sorry to have bothered you. It's quite all right."

The good lady set down at one of the little beige-covered writing tables. Almost automatically she drew pen and paper toward her and started to write. "Dear Florida: Boots is happy at last."

ANNOUNCING LECTURES BY Robt. G. Jackson, M.D.

AT THE SHRINE AUDITORIUM

Sept. 29 and 30

8 p.m.

SUBJECT:
"The Mistakes We Make"

The famous "Young Man of 78," Dr. Robt. G. Jackson, is lecturing in Victoria, Sept. 29 and 30, and you should not miss this opportunity of hearing him. You will see and hear a man who 29 years ago was given up to die by the late Sir Wm. Osler.

You will hear him tell in a clear, resounding voice how he rebuilt his deformed and dying body into a body that a young athlete would envy.

Since Dr. Jackson made his first appearance on the lecture platform at the age of 71, demands for his lectures are enormous, not only in Canada but in all parts of the United States, where he annually lectures before such prominent bodies as the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences and the New York Athletic Club, the largest club of its kind in the world. Dr. Jackson annually covers 15,000 miles, lecturing often twice a day, never misses an engagement through fatigue or sickness—in fact he defies disease, colds, aches or pains before every audience, and returns to his office younger and more efficient than ever. How does he do it at almost 79? Attend these lectures and hear him describe and demonstrate his secret.

The lectures are free, but you are advised to come early to be sure of a seat because those who have heard Dr. Jackson always come again.

Explosion at London, Ont.

Canadian Press
London, Ont., Sept. 25.—An inquest will be held October 2 on the death of Gordon Somerville, London athlete, who succumbed yesterday to injuries suffered in an explosion in the boiler room of the Hobbs Manufacturing Company plant here. Three others were injured in the blast.

Equipment was being installed in a new eighty-horsepower industrial boiler when the blast or "backfire" occurred, one of the heavy front doors being blown off. It struck the men who were hurried backward by the force of the explosion.

New simple processes for making plastic materials from sawdust may solve the problem of what to do with waste sawdust in mills and plants.

URGES CIVIL SERVICE UNITY

Fred Knowles, Ottawa, Addresses Local Branch of Civil Servants

Union of Dominion, provincial and municipal employees to combat the government patronage system was urged and foreseen by Fred Knowles, Ottawa, national secretary of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, in an address to the local branch yesterday evening.

Mr. Knowles told the meeting of plans to reduce the scope of the Civil Service Act in order to create jobs which patronage committees might deal with. This reduction, he claimed, was being necessitated because of unemployment and the pressure being brought to bear upon members of parliament.

The speaker dealt with the work of the national council in its efforts to secure salary reductions and desired amendments to the Superannuation Act. If the federal authorities accepted the findings of an independent advisory board, on which the council was represented, he believed the service would have on complaints against changes made in the act.

The classification of "temporary-permanent" employees was also discussed by Mr. Knowles, who told of the recommendations of a parliamentary committee that all such men be made permanent employees. This, however, had not been possible because the act allowed only 80 per cent permanent employees in each unit of the service.

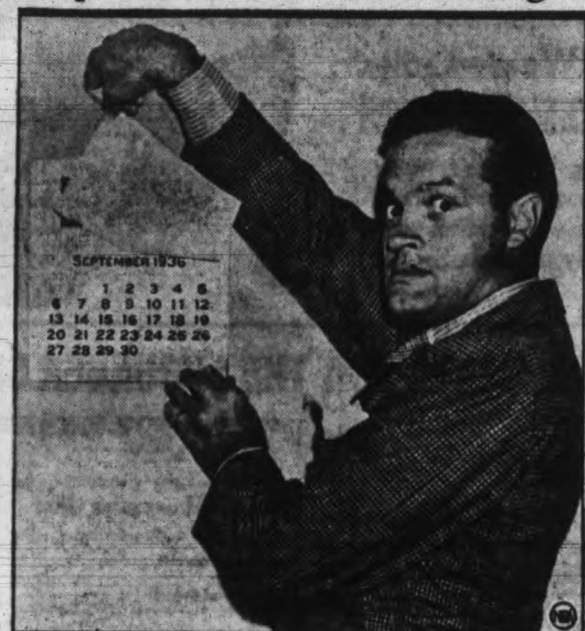

The meeting also heard Daniel McCarthy, Vancouver, who urged co-operation among civil servants. R. Knight presided.

Dr. Jackson to Lecture Here

Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., who will lecture in Victoria the evening of September 29 and 30, is no stranger here. Each year Victoria is one of the first cities in his lecture itinerary. Dr. Jackson, who is now in his seventy-ninth year, began lecturing eight years ago, and those who have annually attend his lectures believe, as he does himself, that he is growing younger each year. On this occasion the doctor has chosen as his subject "The Mistakes We Make."

Dr. Jackson is greatly in demand as a lecturer. Annually he travels some 15,000 miles lecturing sometimes twice a day. His lectures are delivered in a spirited, strong and vibrant voice, and he demonstrates on the platform to what a state of perfection he has brought his once decrepit and broken down body. He will go to the United States from here, and his tour will continue until early spring.

Do-pun—"What Am I Doing?"

Well, well! Bob Hope's expression says he's up to more than meets the eye. The "Broadway" comedian must be up to some real funny business as he messes with the calendar and asks, "What am I doing?" Give up? Turn to the answer on Page 18.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

September 25, 1911
(From The Times Files)

Fire broke out early today in the hold of the battleship Liberty, counted one of the finest vessels in the French navy, and the explosion which followed wrecked the ship and killed more than half of her crew of 793 officers and men.

Addressing a large and representative gathering of men, some residents of Victoria, some strangers in the city, C. R. Sayer, Winnipeg, opened the ceremonies of the dedication of the new Y.M.C.A. building yesterday.

The first United States mail ever transported by airplane was carried Saturday from the aviation field on Nassau Boulevard, Long Island, to Garden City, a distance of five miles, by Earle Ovington in a Blériot machine.

Walter Miller, who has acted as pastor of Pender Island Church, has been appointed by the Presbytery to Gordon River for a period of six months. Rev. L. Thomas, Sooke, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Miller at Pender Island.

On Saturday afternoon, Mr. William Henry Jones and Miss Margaret Blanchard, both residents of this city, were united in marriage at the Metropolitan Methodist parsonage by Rev.

FLORIDA LEMONS GROW IN RUSSIA

By Science Service
Moscow.—Three thousand cuttings from Florida lemon trees are growing in the hot-house citrus plantation near Moscow, where Soviet scientists are studying citrus culture. Other lemon trees have also been brought north from the Soviet sub-tropics, and by 1937 the citrus farm is expected to have 20,000 trees.

Defeated By Own Cards

South Players, Who Ignore North's Rebid of Clubs, Caught in Tenace Trap at No Trump Contract

By Wm. E. McKENNEY

When a player is blessed in the deal with half the aces, three of the kings, and half of the queens and jacks, it does not leave so many high cards for the others. With such a wealth of honors, a good bridge player will remember that his partner cannot have much, in fact, that he may not have anything.

There is, of course, the chance that the partner holds all the remaining high cards, and then the sky is the limit with such a hand; but if he doesn't, what then?

This discussion is brought about because of a hand I saw in a recent duplicate game, which brought all sorts of trouble to the North and South pairs. It was a case where South let his high cards destroy him. There is nothing to the play of the hand. As the cards lie, North can make five odd against any lead. The bidding as given above was SOLUTION OF PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM

MARKET PLAN WORKED OUT

Salt Fish Industry to Stay Under Control of New Regulation

A new regulation under the Fisheries Act, which will enable the B.C. Salt Fish Board to continue its control over the marketing of the salt fish output of British Columbia, despite the questioned legality of the Natural Products Marketing Act, was approved by the provincial government today.

It provides that all holders of salt-fish licenses must agree to co-operate with and abide by the rules of the salt fish board.

The effect of this action, taken at the request of the industry as a whole, is to continue the marketing scheme launched last year, which regulates the amount of salmon and herring packed, and controls the marketing of it.

The province today also renewed a regulation which specifies that at least 50 per cent of the labor in salmon salteries must be white or native Indian.

Applications for herring dry salteries will close at noon, September 26.

Death Summons George E. Reid

LadySmith, Sept. 25.—A former mayor, alderman and school trustee, George E. Reid, passed away yesterday at his home here at the age of seventy. Born in Bruce County, Ontario, the deceased came to British Columbia twenty-six years ago, and resided for varying periods in Old Wellington, Nanaimo and Victoria before starting in business in LadySmith eighteen years ago.

For many years he took a keen interest in municipal and school affairs and, after several terms as alderman, became mayor for two years in 1929. Later he was chairman of the Board of School Trustees. Last year he undertook an extended visit to the scenes of his early days in Bruce County, and became ill shortly after his return here.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Earle of Alberni and Kenneth of Wingdam, B.C., and one daughter, Mrs. Tom Robertson of this city, and by children of his former marriage in Ontario.

SONNY'S MOTHER WRITES:

"Now Sonny and Grandad EAT EVERYTHING"

"Since I cook only with digestible Crisco, special cooking for Sonny and Grandad is over! Foods correctly made with Crisco are so light and easy to digest."

INDIVIDUAL PEACH SHORTCAKES

—A shortcake for each one at the table, and so fluffy that even a child can eat "grown-up" dessert, too! It's a wonderful feature of Crisco cooking that even pies and fried foods are light—so digestible!

1/4 cup Crisco 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar 1/2 cup milk
2 eggs, beaten 1 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 cups flour 1 1/2 cups vanilla
1 teaspoon baking powder 6-8 ripe peaches

Measure Crisco and sugar into mixing-bowl and blend together. My—how easy this is with Crisco, the shortening that's so creamy! Add beaten eggs. Beat one minute. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk—then vanilla. Pour into "Criscoed" muffin or cup-cake tins. Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) about 20 minutes. Just before serving, decorate with sweetened sliced peaches and thick pouring cream.

All Measurements Level. Crisco is the registered trademark of a shortening manufactured by the Procter & Gamble Co.

Why long for pie but fear to eat it? Why condemn fried foods as indigestible? Listen—Crisco foods are so light and digestible—that they're safe even for children!

True, heavy pies and greasy fried foods are banned by doctors. But not the Crisco kind. Doctors know that Crisco—because it's the pure, creamy vegetable shortening—gives easy-digesting foods.

And here's the case where food that's good for you tastes extra-good. Feathery, delicate cakes are the easiest ever to make with Crisco, the vegetable shortening that is so creamy! Crisco's creaminess makes it double-light, too—that's why Crisco pastry is a marvel of melting lightness. Try Crisco to enjoy smokeless frying—and golden-crispy fried foods that are marvelously digestible. Buy Crisco today. Eat well and feel well!

AREN'T YOU GLAD THAT I TOLD YOU THAT SONNY AND GRANDAD COULD EAT CRISCO PIES AND FRIED FOODS?

OH, YES! NOW ALL THE FAMILY EATS THE SAME FOODS—AND WE ALL KNOW OUR DIGESTIONS ARE HELPED!

THE SPORTS MIRROR

WHEN THE NEW YORK YANKEES, 1936 world-series contenders, acquired young Joe Di Maggio from the San Francisco Seals for $75,000 or more, few suspected they were buying the spark plug for a pennant drive. Rather, the Yankee partisans figured the Italian youngster from the coast came to the Yankees merely as a batting wonder, who would be a one-man show with a ball club going nowhere.

That, or the nucleus for a new Yankee ball club that must be built after the last remnants of old Murderers' Row were gone from the stadium. Manager Joe McCarthy, needing to fill the old spot from which Babe Ruth poled his homers, dropped the comparatively inexperienced youngster in there—and presto! He had another fire-eating ball club that is called Murderers' Row just like the slain-gang of the Klu Klux Klan.

Di Maggio got away to a bad start. Training camp injuries kept him benched as the season began with the Yanks showing little power. But when Joe arrived, the club began hitting and went through the American League on a home-run and extra-base-hit spree that rivals the best years of old Murderers' Row and many surpasses the feel of the big league willows and learning from room-mate Frankie Crosetti about the opposition pitchers, old Tony Lazzeri, the other member of the Yankee Italian triumvirate, came through in the clutch.

Since then, Tony's batting has fallen off again and he isn't so spry as he used to be, but he's still an important cog in the infield combination of Gehrig, first base, Lazzeri, second base, Crosetti, shortstop and Red Rolfe third base. One Broadway fan has the success of the Yankees figured as purely a Di Maggio-Gehrig affair, disregarding the fact that the Yanks' power all in and down the line is the main factor.

Di Maggio, except for a slump that in his hitless performance in the inter-league all-star game at Boston and another that attacked him and the other Yankees as well, at the turn into the September stretch, would get on base 50 per cent of the time. If he singled, or walked, the opposition first-basemen would be drawn to the bag and Gehrig, next up, as likely as not, would put one right down the alley to right field. Some of these hits might have been fielded for putouts had the first sacker been free to play his position without the prancing Di Maggio to worry him about the base.

But the psychological effect of Di Maggio had on the phlegmatic Gehrig was supposed to carry the real pay-off. Altogether, the Yankees are a smoothly-operating ball club built around a rookie who bats where Ruth used to.

Orillia Takes Eastern Crown

Montreal, Sept. 23.—Orillia Terriers, playing in defence of their Canadian box lacrosse championship, last night won the eastern Canada title with a 12 to 4 win over Montreal Canadiens in a fight-punctuated match before 5,000 fans.

Victory, well assured before a free-for-all scrap broke out in the dying minutes of the game, gave the smooth Terrier machine two straight wins against Montreal in the best two-of-three series and obliterated the necessity of a third game Saturday. Terriers now meet the western Canada challengers for the Dominion title they have kept in Orillia since 1934.

KITZMILLER WILL APPEAR

Is Secured for Return Battle With Chief Thunderbird on Mat Card

Negotiations for the return of George "Cannonball" Kitzmiller, the Portland "wildman", to fight Chief Thunderbird, Saanich Indian, were fulfilled yesterday evening by Promoter Fred Richardson for his weekly mat programme at the Tillicum gym tomorrow evening.

Two times these two lads have met and the victories stand at one apiece. Supremacy will be the aim of the pair tomorrow night when they meet in the five eight-minute, semi-wind-up bout. Last week's bout between the Portlander and Saanich Indian, which saw the latter defeat Kitzmiller, stole the show.

Jack Forsgren, Vancouver, and Leo Numa Anderson, Seattle, have been secured for the eight ten-minute bout which will headline the show. The special attraction on the card will be a return encounter between Louis Newman, Victoria, and Manley Meade, Chicago. This is slated for the route of five six-minute rounds. A pair of local lads will open the card at 8:45 o'clock.

"DONKEY BALL" SERIES BILLED

New Comedy Sport to Be Introduced by Gyro Club, October 1, 2 and 3

The latest in the line of baseball, "donkey ball" will be introduced to Victorians on October 1, 2 and 3 by the Gyro Club, when they stage a series of matches at the Horne Show Building with the Wilsons.

Hollywood ushered in this form of baseball last year and it went over big. It is played in the same manner as baseball, but a player after hitting the ball must mount his donkey and ride for first base.

Of course there is always the possibility of the "jack ass" getting stubborn on his rider speeding to start at all. The Winnipeg Evening Tribune said of the game played there: "The Lions' charity donkey ball series was moving toward popularity at an increased velocity today... as fans crowded Westley Park to see this amusing laugh fest."

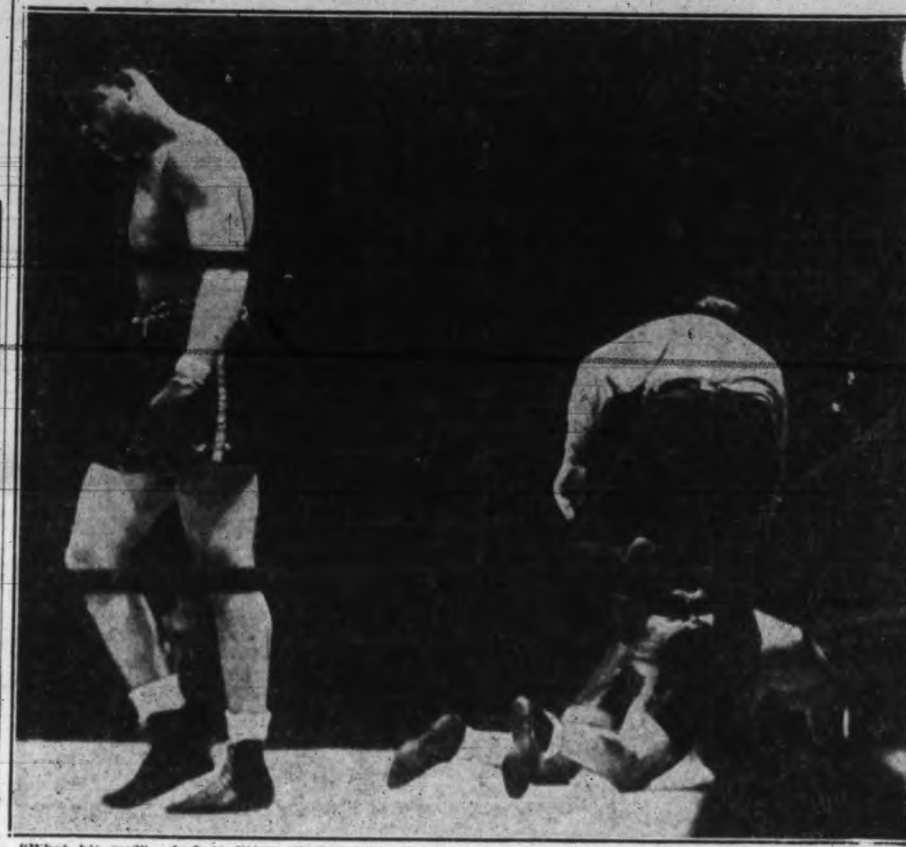

The Gyro baseball team, which won the Service Club League softball title, will defend its laurels against other Victoria teams during the three nights of the series. The much liked hard-ball team, Cox's Army, led by "Rebel" Mowat, and the squad of the Victoria Police Department will be a pair of teams who will meet the Gyros.

The proceeds will be used by the clubmen for their community work in Victoria.

HOCKEY MEETING

A meeting of the Victoria Grass Hockey Club will be held tonight, at 8 o'clock, in the City Hall. All members are asked to attend. Organization plans for the coming season will be discussed.

Louis Adds Ettore to Knockout List

"What hit me?" asked Al Ettore, Philadelphia heavyweight, when dragged to his corner after being knocked out in the fifth round of his scheduled fifteen-round bout with Joe Louis at Philadelphia. Without even looking back, so confident is he of the result, Louis walks to a neutral corner as Referee McGuigan heads over the gallant Ettore, who was battered into insensibility from which he was unable to rise to continue battle.

BUDGE GAINS SEMI-FINALS

Defeats Bobby Underwood 6-1, 6-1, in Pacific Southwest Tennis

Los Angeles, Sept. 25.—Donald Budge, Oakland's red-headed net master and America's No. 1 singles star, forged into the semi-final round of men's singles in the Pacific southwest tennis championships yesterday, defeating Bobby Underwood, Stanford University, 6-1, 6-1.

Jack Tidball, Los Angeles, moved into the other semi-final spot in the upper bracket, eliminating John Van Ryn, Orange, N.J., 6-4, 6-4.

Thus the men's singles narrowed down to four survivors. Budge and Tidball will meet tomorrow for the right to go into the finals Sunday. Fred Perry, England, and Francis X. Shields, Hollywood, the other semi-finalists, will battle it out tomorrow.

The national mixed doubles champion, Alice Marble, Los Angeles, and Gene Mako, Glendale, were unexpectedly eliminated in the semi-finals yesterday. Yvon Petra, Santa Monica, 6-3, 6-7, will meet Miss Gracyn Wheeler, also of Santa Monica, in the other semi-final, defeating them, 6-1, 6-3.

In women's singles quarter-finals, Mrs. John Van Ryn defeated Miss Workman, 6-4, 6-4, and will meet Miss Marble in the upper bracket, while Miss Carolyn Babcock, Los Angeles, national women's doubles champion, who defeated young Dorothy Bundy, Santa Monica, 6-3, 6-7, will meet Miss Gracyn Wheeler, also of Santa Monica, in the other semi-final.

Four In A Row For Brown Jug

Western-bred Gelding Gallops to Another Win at Willows Track; Aged Horses Home in Front

Brown Jug, a seven-year-old gelding, sired by Tangle Toes, scored his fourth straight victory at Willows race track yesterday, and established a bid for the honor of number "two" "iron horse" of the current B.C. racing season, succeeding the brilliant Shasta Bream.

Sent to the post by his clever Japanese owner, K. Inamatsu, the speedy western bred was installed a two to one favorite, and scored a close win over Bow River Stable's Spanish Light. It was his seventh triumph of the B.C. season and the fifth in his last six starts.

Joe de Ford's Bell Rap won the feature handicap at a mile and seventy yards, and surprised the form players who had him, looked as strictly a sprinter. He took the top at the start, led all the way and was well in hand at the finish to stave off the fast-closing favorite, H. M. Fullerton's Wreath. Bell Rap paid off at eleven to one.

DOUG PEDEN IS NOW ELEVENTH

Victoria Rider and Partner Eleven Laps Behind in London Bike Race

London, Sept. 25.—Kilian and Vopel, the Germans, and Aerts and Buysse, the Belgians, were tied for the lead in the Wembley six-day bike race today. The Germans had 1,350 miles. The Belgians had 298 points and the Belgians 313.

Douglas Peden, Victoria, making his first professional appearance in the pedalling game, and his partner, Henry LePage, Montreal, were back in eleventh place, eleven laps behind, with 159 points.

Pietzen and Van Kempen were penalized one lap for both being off the track at the same time, which left them one lap behind the leaders. They had 456 points. Van Kempen covered a lap in last night's jamming in 2.4.4 seconds, said to equal the world record.

TWO FOR LOCAL TRAINED

Colors of the Parson's Bridge Stable, trained by C. Chappas, came down in front twice when Lady Goldstream, a one to two shot, took the opening event of the day, and Miss Goldstream at four to one, won the fifth.

Barnett rode the ten-year-old Lady Goldstream to an easy victory over a field of western bred at the six furlong route, and Young Man astride the stable's second winner.

BIG DOUBLE

The few lucky ones who combined Kite and Jack Ellsworth in the daily double were rewarded with a $187.50 pay-off. Kite, an eleven-year-old former stake horse, simply breezed home in the second, paying twelve to one, and Jack Ellsworth, five to one.

Outstanding Southpaw Hurler Will Open World Series Against New York Yankees Next Wednesday; Bill Terry Will Play First Base

Boston, Sept. 25.—Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, who clinched the National League pennant yesterday in a victory over Boston Bees, said today he would start Hubbell, Fitzsimmons and Schumacher, probably in that order, against the New York Yankees.

The rest of the pitching staff, Terry added, will be used for relief work throughout the world series, which opens next Wednesday.

Terry said he himself would play first base.

Mr. and Mrs. New York woke up today to a complete monopoly of the 1936 world's series.

The New York Giants clinched the National League pennant yesterday by splitting a doubleheader with the Boston Bees, winning the right to meet the American League champion New York Yankees in the first "subway series" in thirteen years.

The result is that Mr. and Mrs. New York—or any of the thousands who come to town for the classic starting next Wednesday—can get to the home grounds of both contenders, on opposite banks of the Harlem, for the price of a subway ride, a 5-cent piece.

The luck that has featured the astonishing pennant-bound drive of the Giants since mid-July held out as they put the clincher on "Prince Hal" Schumacher pitched splendid seven-hit ball in the opener and drove in the winning run with a single in the tenth. But it was the "break" of a two-base error by Bill Urbanak on Travis Jackson's grounder in the extra frame that put the run in scoring position for Schumacher's hit.

In the nightcap, Bill Weir, the New Hampshire collegian, faced a second-string Giant aggregation and set them down with six hits for a 4 to 0 Boston win.

Canadian Golf Final Reached

Mrs. Darling and Mrs. Mulqueen Play Today for Close Championship

Pointe Claire, Que., Sept. 25.—All that was in the way today of Mrs. A. B. Darling gaining the Canadian open and closed golf championships—a feat accomplished only twice before—was Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of Toronto, a golfing veteran who knows all the shots.

Montreal's winner of the open last Saturday and Mrs. Mulqueen fought against the elements over Beaconsfield Club's 6,000-yard layout yesterday to register 4 and 3 and 3 and 1 victories, respectively, over Toronto's Ada Mackenzie and Mrs. H. W. Soper of Montreal.

Mrs. Mulqueen eliminated Miss Mackenzie—the woman who won both crowns in 1926 and 1933—with a steady, although over-par display. She came through on the home nine, which she reached 2 up, after watching the card disappear at the twelfth.

The Ontario champion, winner of the closed in 1934, was out in 39, two over par, while Miss Mackenzie took 41 to the turn.

Miss Mackenzie cracked on the fifteenth, missing a two-foot putt. On the sixteenth she dubbed her second and third shots and on the short seventeenth she missed the green with her drive while Mrs. Mulqueen drove accurately for wins on all three.

Outplaying the open champion, Mrs. Soper hit the turn 1 up, but from the tenth in, Mrs. Darling covered all the accuracy of her long hitting game. She won the tenth, halved the eleventh and then ran out the next four holes with even pars.

WOMEN'S GOLF FINAL GAINED

Mrs. V. S. Godfrey and Mrs. B. R. Philbrick Meet for Oak Bay Title

Mrs. V. S. Godfrey and Mrs. B. R. Philbrick reached the final of the Victoria Golf Club women's championship yesterday. The former, medalist and defending champion, defeated Miss Bagley 6 and 4, while Mrs. Philbrick eliminated Mrs. Hew Paterson 3 and 2.

The deciding match over eighteen holes was played this afternoon.

In the first flight play-offs, Mrs. Charles E. Wilson met Mrs. E. F. Gillespie. The former defeated Mrs. L. O. Howard, 5 and 4, but Mrs. Gillespie was carried to the nineteenth hole before winning from Mrs. Harold Wilson.

SHUTTLE CLUB NAMES HEADS

Warren W. Martin was re-elected president of the Y.M.C.A. Badminton Club at the annual meeting of the organization yesterday evening. Honorary presidents named were H. B. Witter and Capt. Wingate.

Don Smith was named vice-president. Catherine Alexander, secretary, and Kathleen Robinson, treasurer. Mrs. Fred Noel was elected to handle the social activities of the club.

Members of the club will have also the opportunity to play table tennis during the season, on the tables at the club rooms in View Street.

North Shore Indians Head East In Quest Of Boxla Title

B.C. Champions Battle Calgary Tomorrow Night

Will Be Sudden-death Affair for Right to Tackle Winnipeg Winners

Indians Have Smart Outfit

Vancouver, Sept. 25.—North Shore Indians, a lacrosse machine constructed only last year but considered one of the greatest ever to carry British Columbia's banner into Mann Cup playdowns, entrained for Calgary today to meet the first challenge along the trail they hope will lead to the Canadian lacrosse championship.

Formed last season the Indians reached the Intercity League final.

This year with a peppering of imports from Bramford, Ont., they led the league almost throughout the season and won the British Columbia title in a breeze from the renowned New Westminster Salmonbellies.

Indians meet Calgary Pontiacs tomorrow night in a sudden-death game. If successful they go to Winnipeg for another sudden-death affair Monday night with West-Ends for the right to meet the Grizzlies Terriers.

Sixteen Braves, manager Any Paul, Jim McConaghy, president of the Intercity Box Lacrosse Commission and Dan McKenzie, secretary of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association, are making the trip.

And in the baggage car, with their equipment, are two tom-toms which will be used to beat out the victory chant after each triumph (if and when).

Henry Baker, goalie, rated by some as the peer of Canadian backstop, is thirty-eight years old and a veteran of the 1932 Olympic Games.

Stan Joseph, vice-captain of the team, hands out solid body checks on the defence. He was a member of Salmonbellies' unsuccessful Mann Cup drive in 1934.

Stan Bomberby, a Mohawk brave, is rated as one of the best defence men in the game and a wizard at play-making from the corners.

Cee-Van Every, punning mate of Bomberby on defence, has a wicked shot with a hop to it, and is the biggest man on the squad.

Chief Moses Joseph, who plays rover position, is a lacrosse player of the old school, a furious checker.

Russell "Beef" Smith, called the "powerhouse" of the Indians, used his 215 pounds to start goal-getting plays.

Louis Lewis, another veteran of Mann Cup finals, is dangerous.

Oscar Bomberby, another Mohawk recruit and brother of Stan, packs a terrific shot and was one of the high scorers of the Inter-City League.

Dominic Baker, a wizard at stick-handling, makes most of the plays for brother Ray.

Ray Baker, called the "crafty fox" of the Indians, can shoot from almost any position.

Jack Squires, whom some say is the fastest man in the game in Canada today, is a brilliant stick-handler. He is another Mohawk.

Huile Smith, brother of "Beef," plays a fast deceptive style of game and was among the leading scorers of Inter-City League last year.

Harry Newman, a native coast Indian, packs a wicked shot and is rated as one of the fastest runners in the game.

Joe Johnston, smallest man on the team, can take the bumps and played a big part in the Indians final series with Salmonbellies this year.

Gilbert Thomas of the Cayuse tribe, is spare goalie of the team and shows ability in the nets during the absence of Baker.

Simon Baker, fourth member of the Baker family on the squad, did not play much this year, but fills in at almost any position.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

AMERICA IN BRAZIL

Strange as it seems, America was named by a German professor, in a French school, for an Italian navigator in the service of the King of Portugal.

Martin Waldseemüller, a young German geographer at the French school of St. Die, became intensely interested in the accounts of the Italian navigator, Amerigo Vesputi, regarding his discovery of a "new world" in the region now known as Central Brazil. The professor applied the discoverer's first name to designate the land which Vesputi had allegedly first brought to light.

As editor of the Latin work, "Cosmographie Introductio," Waldseemüller first published the name as "America." It soon came to be generally applied to the entire South American continent — eventually North America also.

Though he was author of the books that from 1836 to 1890 served as the entire literary education of a large percentage of America's school children, William Holmes McGuffey received an astoundingly low sum for the copyrights on his "Readers." The most accurate estimates quote the number of copies sold as more than 122,000,000 — a record believed to overshadow that of any other American author. Yet, strange as it seems, McGuffey received only $1,000 for the copyright on each of the "Readers."

ENGLISH "TOMMIES"

Thomas Atkin was first used in the British army in the same light the mythical John Doe is today used in America. The name appeared on enlistment applications and military accounts to show English privates how and where to sign their names and the word was adopted as a nickname to denote common soldiers of the British army.

amous amateur club, provides the opposition this week at Hampden Park.

The rest of the card presents no outstanding clashes. Falkirk and St. Mirren, the two clubs that practically romped to promotion last year, play on foreign soil. Falkirk goes to Perth to meet St. Johnstone and the Paisley representatives meet Queen of South at Dumfries.

Hamilton Academicals entertain Third Lanark. Hibernians tackle Clyde at Shawfield Park and Arbroath go to Kilmarnock to complete the card.

Rath Rovers and Morton lead the parade in the second division. Both have "away" games. The Rovers at Cowdenbeath and Morton at Leith, Edinburgh City, with seven losses in as many starts, meet King's Park at Marine Gardens.

VICTORIA COMMITTEE OF B.C. SOCCER COMMISSION RESIGNS

dom allowed the irregularity; your commission accepted it and encouraged it, and the other teams concerned, according to commission members themselves, did not object to it, and in consequence, some three weeks ago, in spite of the warnings from certain press reports of Vancouver, Victoria players and fans were looking forward to another successful season with, possibly, even more intercity football, when, without any hint of coming disaster, within two weeks of the proposed opening of the season, comes a bombshell in the shape of an ultimatum that an entry from Victoria would not be accepted as heretofore and that a new club must apply within one week, this, after permitting conditions outlined above for several seasons.

"We are offered, instead, a competition with other local leagues — a matter of local conditions and the recognized leaders of the game in British Columbia are to hold aloof.

COMMITTEE IGNORED

"The Victoria committee was appointed to advise the commission on matters of local conditions and to operate the games of local league and cup competitions, and as an organization fully conversant with such conditions has tendered its advice on matters in which the commission cannot be expected to be familiar with. In the present matter in question, its opinion was not sought but a definite policy announced. The committee stated its opinion when the policy was announced, and has reiterated it since. The present action of the commission almost amounts to a breach of faith with the Victoria public who, judging by the financial returns, supported the Intercity League games as well as, and in some cases better, than the Vancouver followers of Vancouver teams.

"The members of the Victoria committee are still loyal to the commission but in view of the recent decision of the commission, which has had the effect of debaring an entry from Victoria in the Intercity League, despite the popularity of the series for the past four seasons, the Victoria committee cannot support the decision of the commission. It is, therefore, with extreme regret that the members and secretary of the Victoria committee tender their resignations, the decision to do so being unanimous.

"The secretary will carry on with any affairs requiring attention, until such time as a successor is appointed. "We trust that the commission will appreciate the fact that under the circumstances we cannot see the usefulness of a committee in Victoria and trust they will accept the resignations in the spirit in which they are given, a definite conflict in opinion making it impossible to continue.

"Ours, sincerely,

"A. D. Robertson, chairman.
"C. V. Milton, member.
"G. G. Bloomfield, member.
"J. R. Jones, secretary."

Top-place Derby To Meet Arsenal

Leadership of English Football League at Stake in Match Tomorrow; Injuries Cause Many Teams Concern; Good Matches in Scottish League

London, Sept. 25.—Defeating Wolverhampton Wanderers, 3 to 1, Wednesday, Derby County pulled into a clear lead in the English Football League with ten points, one more than Portsmouth and Stoke City.

Since the opening of the season on August 29, leadership of the first division has been hotly contested by several teams and it is not unlikely that the County will be deposited after tomorrow's round of games is completed.

Derby is called upon to play Arsenal in London, and although the Gunners have not struck last season's form, they are extremely hard to beat on their own ground at Highbury. Portsmouth play at West Bromwich and may snatch victory, while Stoke City will put up a great battle for maximum points against the Wednesday at Sheffield.

Injuries are causing concern to many league clubs and few have been able to decide on their line-ups for tomorrow's fixtures. Brentford, however, is fielding the same squad that went under to Sunderland, 4 to 1. Wolverhampton Wanderers, who play the Roker Park outfit this week, have rearranged their front line, Eastham and Westwood will play the inside positions, with Rimmer at outside left.

ONE OF FEATURES

Everton and Huddersfield tied with Chelsea and Middlesbrough in fourth place in the standing, provide one of the feature matches of the day at Liverpool, and a division of the points may result. Chelsea opposes Manchester City at Maine Road and Middlesbrough is at home to Charlton Athletic, the babes of the division.

Bury, leader in the second division along with Blackpool, is likely to overcome Norwich City. The Seaside also should make short work of the last-place Bradford team. For their game against Barnsley, Tottenham Hotspurs are making several changes. Douglas Hunt will lead the team for the first time this season, and Morrison will line up at inside right with Alexander on the wing. Brown and Edrich form the new left wing.

In the southern section, third division, Cardiff City and Luton Town share top place, Cardiff should have little difficulty against Exeter City, but Luton has tough opposition in Reading. Chester, northern section pace-setter, is up against a strong side in Carlisle United. The United has shown great improvement and won its last two games.

Glasgow, Sept. 25.—The Scottish Football League rounds into its eighth week tomorrow with a possibility Glasgow Rangers, runners-up to the pace-setting Aberdeen eleven, will take over leadership. Rangers led the loop August 19, but since then the Dons have taken command and are now one point up on last season's cup holders.

Both teams have home games. Aberdeen will have to play hard to snatch both points from Motherwell, while Rangers should defeat Dundermire at Ibrox Park. Motherwell, always a hard-fighting outfit, cannot be underestimated and there is a chance the leader's record of no losses in nine games may be broken.

Although the Glasgow club is the only other team in the circuit without an entry in the loss column, the club's record in a large measure is due to exceptional goal-scoring by J. Dawson. Dundermire showed plenty of scoring power last week, blanking the last-place Queen of South 5 to 0, against far superior opposition, however, and playing away from home, the squad can hardly hope for victory.

TOUGH TO PICK

Perhaps the best game of the day will be staged at Tynecastle Park between Hearts and Celtic. Hearts are in a third-place tie and the Celts in fourth position, one point less. So evenly matched are the clubs the result could go either way.

Dundee, tied in points with Celtic, has done remarkably well so far this season, having only one loss against them. Queen's Park, Glasgow's fa-

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Victoria Short Wave Club will hold a meeting on Saturday evening at 2024 Carnarvon Street.

Allen H. Wright, United States author at present engaged in writing a series of articles on Canada for the Pacific Geographic Magazine, is a visitor to Victoria. He is staying at the Empress Hotel.

John D. Palmer, wanted by R.C.
M.P. in Pincher Creek, Alta., was escorted from Victoria today by Constable Bull of the Pincher Creek department, following his recent arrest here.

The staff of the Provincial Normal School and the students held the annual school picnic yesterday afternoon at Cadboro Bay. Games and amusing short programmes staged by each class formed the afternoon's amusement.

Dr. Harvey Farmer, former home director and field superintendent of the North Africa Mission, who is at present conducting a Bible conference in the Central Baptist Church, will give a lantern lecture in the church tonight at 8 o'clock, entitled "Miracles of Mercy Among Moslems."

Victoria West Liberal Social Club will hold a meeting of all committees at the hall, 414 Skinner Street, at 9 o'clock this evening. In addition to those who are members of the different committees any other member who would care to help in some capacity during the winter season are asked by the executive to be present.

The Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter I.O.O.F. will hold a tag day tomorrow in aid of the fund for supplying milk to ill-nourished children in the city schools.
All last winter the chapter supplied 303½ pints daily to needy children, and as the cause is such a worthy one,
the members feel confident of the generous support of the public.

A meeting of the Queen of Peace
Young People's Club was held on Tuesday evening, and plans for winter activities were discussed and a committee appointed to further the programme and make the necessary arrangements. Final arrangements were made for the dance to be held on Tuesday evening next.

A meeting of the executive of the Religious Education Council of Greater Victoria will be held on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Y.W.C.A. All members are requested to be present as definite arrangements will be made regarding the fall training school, which will be held on November 9, 10, 11, 16 and 17.

In connection with the pending publication of his new traffic safety booklet, police chief Hestie announced this morning that E. S.
Bain was the only person authorized to solicit advertising for it. Several complaints have been received by the chief that persons have been soliciting advertising by telephone for the booklet.

The Catholic Young People's Club, at the meeting held last Wednesday night, appointed the following committee to take charge of this season's educational programme: Vic-Montaldi, convener; Irene Bentley, Herbert Bourne, Mona Kelpin and Roma Trudel. The subject to be studied is "The Mass and How to Use It." The first meeting will be on Thursday, October 22.

As chairman of the advisory committee of the Victoria Red Cross Campaign now begun in the city, Dean Quinlan hopes that in all the churches of Victoria the attention of the respective congregations will be drawn by their ministers on Sunday to the needs and claims of this noble work. "As an extension of the healing ministry of Jesus Christ it makes a special appeal to Christian people," says Dean Quinlan.

The Obysa held its weekly meeting in the Oak Bay United schoolroom on Tuesday evening with Miss Jean Smith presiding. The following were appointed to fill the vacancies on the executive: Mary Sinclair, Dora Curtis, Christine Bader and Norman Buckle.
Plans were made for the ensuing three months and many interesting events have been arranged. A lively entertainment, "The Obysa Review," will be given next week and all young people are invited.

OF PUBLICITY

George I. Warren Explains Working of Bureau to Real Estate Men

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau has succeeded in obtaining for Victoria a larger increase in tourist business this year than that recorded by any other point on the Pacific Coast were given to members of the Real Estate Board at their luncheon today by George I. Warren, the bureau's commissioner.

Speaking on "Intimate Details of the Work of Your Publicity Bureau," Mr. Warren gave the real estate men a conception of the vast amount of detail work which goes into attracting tourists to Victoria and Vancouver Island.

He told of the many branches of the bureau's work and quoted among them the following: Mailing and distribution of maps and folders, provision of maps for hotel lobbies in towns on highways leading here, mailing 76,618 letters with separate forms for the various types of inquiry, sending of pictures and publicity material to be published by papers in all parts of the world, co-operation with station CPCT in answering DX letters and cards, personal contact work at Blaine and by traveling agents on United States highways, negotiations with transportation companies for better rates and schedules, correcting errors in maps and statements concerning this district, entertainment of prominent sport and feature writers, erection of sign boards on United States highways, and answering more than 10,000 inquiries so far this year over the bureau's counter.

"Most people look on the bureau as an advertising agency; actually it is a publicity organization, and publicity is a greater factor than advertising. It reaches more people and makes more impression on them,"
Mr. Warren said.

G. H. Stevens, president of the bureau, expressed his appreciation of Mr. Warren's work, terming him "one of the first-class publicity men of this continent."

Donald Sias, advertising representative of San Francisco, Los Angeles and Oakland papers, spoke briefly to the meeting, attributing the success of the publicity bureau to the good balance of its programme.

Workers in Large Local Company Set Example to All in City in Attitude to Campaign, Says Commissioner

"The money is coming in excellently and the enthusiasm of everyone is simply splendid," was the report this morning of Hugh Birch-Jones, provincial Red Cross Society commissioner, as the society looked back over the first day of its drive in Victoria to raise $15,000 for local and provincial needs.

Mr. Birch-Jones expects to be able to publish the first progress figures on the campaign tomorrow.
As an example to people in all lines of business in the city, he quoted the case of an interview which he had last night with the foreman of various departments of a large local company, representing some 250 working men.

At the conclusion of the meeting
the chairman said:
"We subscribe to lots of things locally, but we are especially interested in subscribing to the Red Cross because we are looking after the fellow in the pioneer districts who needs help and cannot obtain it through any other society but the Red Cross."

"Those words struck me as a significant example that others would do well to follow," said Mr. Birch-Jones.
"It points the way to what the city should feel in the way of responsibility."

Six Months on Money Charges

Evan J. Robinson Obtained
Cash Falsely Six Times

Evan J. Robinson was sentenced to six months' imprisonment when he pleaded guilty in the City Police and Sanitex police courts to six charges of obtaining money by false pretences this morning.

On each of the six charges Robinson was sentenced to six months' hard labor, all running concurrently.
He pleaded guilty to three of the charges in the City Court yesterday and this morning he admitted obtaining $8 from Mrs. Lillian Mc-Culloch by false pretences.

The victims in Spanish were A. E.
Reardon and Edmond Lohrbauer.
From the former he secured $10 and the latter $7.50.

In each instance Robinson offered to sell the defendants wood at $2.50 a cord, saying he needed the money in advance to repair his truck.
In passing sentence Magistrate Henry Hall said it was apparent the accused had made a practice of falsely obtaining money and the circumstances indicated in each instance he worked up his sympathy of his prospective victims.

ENGLAND HAS LUMBER BOOM

Business Best in Sixty-four Years, Says London
Timber Merchant

"In the sixty-four years that our business has been established we have never been so busy as we are now," said Ernest W. Nutting of a London, England, lumber company, who is at the Dominion Hotel today. "That augurs well for British Columbia," he added.

"I think the lumber trade is going to boom. We are doing all we can on the other side to help British Columbia," said Mr. Nutting, who has been placing orders with companies in this province.

However, it was not lumber that brought him to this continent. He is at present on his way to visit his brother who for the last twenty-seven years has made his home in Stockton, Calif., where he is a church organist.

Asked his opinion of Canada, which he is visiting for the first time, Mr.
Nutting said: "It's fine—but I'd rather live in England."

PROTEST INFLUX OF B.C. JOBLESS

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Sept. 25.—Protest against unemployed men from British Columbia, who have been at work through the summer in federal camps in the mountains, flocking into Alberta was made to Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, here today.

The protest was made by Alberta cabinet ministers with whom Mr.
Gardiner conferred.
The camps have been closed. About 150 men from the camps landed in Calgary in one lot recently, it was pointed out, and others have been drifting in from time to time.
British Columbia authorities and police are refusing to let the men return, and their presence in Alberta is adding an unfair burden to relief already being carried here, the ministers told Mr. Gardiner.

My Boyhood Ambition

A rubber planter.

"The first ambition I remember as a boy was to work for myself, selling something with no boss to tell me what to do," George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, says, in telling of the aims of his boyhood.

"I wanted to go in the rubber producing business even before there were any automobiles or a need for auto tires and learned Spanish to go to South America."

"I was only five when I earned my first dime selling newspapers in San Francisco. I bought my mother a bundle with it. She still has the thing. By the time I was seven I had three other kids selling newspapers for me."

"As a kid I also made money by ushering at the big fights in San Francisco, including those of Pit-simmons, Corbett, Sharkey and Jer-ries."

"Then I worked in a bank but the selling idea was always with me and I built up a mail-order business. As I grew older I became interested in community work. I continued this interest when I came to Victoria when I was twenty-six years of age and that interest led me to the publicity commission."

"I think if I had the choice of a career to make again I would choose that of a lawyer."

The picture of Mr. Warren was taken when he was twenty years of age.

RUGBY UNION
IN SESSION

S. J. Ketchen Presides Over Annual Meeting of Canadian English Rugby Body

Adoption of the reports of the president and secretary occupied this morning's session of the Canadian English Rugby Union in the Colonnade boardroom.
President H. J. Ketchen, Victoria, occupied the chair.

Attending the session were: R. W.
Henderson, Winnipeg, representing Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and Maurice Crehan, Vancouver. These were the only two out-of-town delegates. Others present were: A. H. Cox, Victoria, provincial representative, and Fred Cabeldu, Victoria, secretary of the association.

Delegates attending the meeting held proxies for the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario.

The afternoon's session included the election of officers, discussion of proposed changes in the constitution and the arranging of foreign tours.

Dismiss Appeal Against Barbers

An appeal by Albert Charles Page, 212 Menzies Street, against the board of examiners in barbering, who refused him a certificate at his August examination, was dismissed without costs by Judge J. C. McIn-toosh in County Court today.

Judge McIntosh ruled an appeal could not be granted unless malice were shown on the part of the examining board. He suggested the appellant, represented by Gordon Cameron, study the provincial regulations governing barbering and the textbook and prepare himself for the board's examination in November.

DO NOT LET CHILDHOOD SLIP
BY WITHOUT PIANO TUITION

Childhood years are most precious of all, because it is at this age children find it easiest to learn. Even before they go to school they can make progress with piano lessons —and they make progress because they like it.

Fletcher Bros. has been the starting point for the musical education of hundreds of children. Here are available pianos by the best Canadian makers — all reconditioned by expert craftsmen — ready for you to place in your home at a cost of only a few dollars a month. Come in today and see them.

NOTICE
To Whom It May Concern

Attention is directed to the following regulation made under the Provincial "Fisheries Act," Order-in-Council No. 1078:

"All applications for a herring licence shall be made to and received by the Commissioner of Fisheries not later than 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, September 23, 1936, and no application for any such licence received after 12 o'clock noon on the 30th day of September, 1936, shall be approved."

Dated at Victoria, B.C., this 23rd day of September, 1936.

(Signed) GEO. J. ALEXANDER,
Assistant Commissioner of Fisheries.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

If J. Carrol Nash should ever decide to give up the screen he can always earn a living as a snake
charmer.

Nash, whose weekly salary runs into high figures, portrays the role of a Hindu snake charmer in the Warner Oland mystery, "Charlie Chan
at the Circus," which is now playing at the Columbia Theatre.

Disdaining the use of rubber
snakes, the Irish actor called for real ones, and the studio responded by renting a pair from Miss May Cooper, snake charmer of the Al G. Barnes circus.

JUVENILE SOCCER

The Lower Island Junior and

PORTLAND IS ONE GAME UP

Portland, Ore., Sept. 25.—A brilliant tenth-inning finish which netted a 6 to 5 victory left the Portland Beavers one up over Oakland today in the final playoff series for the Coast
League baseball pennant.

The Beavers last night spotted the visitors to a three-run lead in the first two frames, crept up to a tie with scores in the second, sixth and eighth, saw the Oaks hamper over-two runs for almost certain victory in the tenth, and then proceeded to pound Laroc for five hits and three runs to end the battle on top.

The teams gave way to the opening of Portland's interscholastic high school grid season today. The next game will be played tomorrow night and the third Sunday, after which the series will be resumed in Oakland.

Dick Powell At the Plaza

Marion Davies, in her latest Compo-litan production, "Hears Divided," with a romantic historical background, opened at the Plaza Theatre
today.

The picture is said to have been produced on a lavish scale with beautiful sets and colorful settings. The title role is played by Marion Davies, the historical Patterson mansion of Baltimore and its spacious grounds, but there are also sequences in Washington, an outlying race track, and in the palace of Emperor Napoleon of France.

Dick Powell, who has the leading masculine role, also sings songs specially written for the production by Harry Warren and Al Dubin, in one of which he is joined by Miss Davies. Other music is furnished in the form of spirituals sung by the famous Hall Johnson Choir, representing slaves in their quarters on the Patterson estate.

"Florida Special," the new Paramount mystery-farce set aboard a speeding train, is the second feature.

Sally Eilers and Jack Oakie head
a cast which includes Kent Taylor, Sam (Schlepperman) Hearn, Frances
Drake, J. Farrell MacDonald, Claude Gillingwater, Sidney Blackmer and many others.

OAK BAY THEATRE

During the past three years Shirley Temple has taken the principal role in many successful pictures, and "Curly Top," now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre, is conceded to be one of her most popular films.

Along with the film "Curly Top" is shown another of the Charlie Chan thrillers, "Charlie Chan in Shanghai."

It is a story of how the famous Chinese detective plunges into a seething mass of crime to break the stronghold of death-dealing opium smugglers on his people.

Capitol to Show "Green Pastures"

"The Green Pastures," Marc Connelly's Pulitzer Prize play that ran eighteen solid months on Broadway and toured throughout the United States will open at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow.

The picture retains all the unique qualities that made the stage production known as "America's Best Loved Play."

It is said to be the most pretentious production ever attempted by Warner Bros., and was filmed in a lavish manner. Absolutely nothing was spared in the making of the film to give this inspiring play a majestic background.

There are 120 beautiful scenic settings, some of them of gigantic proportions, such as the sunlit glade in which 600 characters attend a celestial fish-fry, the scene with Noah's Ark breasting the flood in a terrific storm; a southern community, with its full-sized church, its gambling halls and night clubs; the barbaric palace of the King of Babylon, and the spectacular night club in which the Babylonian revels are held and in which eighty comely and shapely dancers entertain the King and his courtiers.

Marc Connelly, the author of the stage production, who collaborated on the screen play with Sheridan Gibney, and co-directed it with William Keighley, declares that the picture is vastly superior to the stage show.

The story, based on Roark Bradford's novel, is highly humorous, yet tenderly reverent.

Exceptional music sets off the picture. This is in the form of spirituals, sung by a chorus of sixty rich voices, the same as heard in the original stage play as rendered by the famous Hall Johnson Choir.

The drama is enacted by a tremendous cast, with 111 speaking parts and nearly 1,000 other players.

Dominion Shows "Secret Agent"

"Secret Agent," the spy thriller based on W. Somerset Maugham's "Ashenden" stories is now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

Alfred Hitchcock has a genius for novelty in thrills and he proved in "The 39 Steps," his previous production for GB, that he can handle spy stories with an especially deft and original touch. "Secret Agent," which stars Madeleine Carroll, Peter Lorre, John Gielgud and Robert Young, is littered with spies and secrets, with agents and intrigue, with eerie closeups, hurtling trains, misty mountain peaks and with a dash of love and a spot of murder thrown in to make a Hitchcockian what it is.

Played against the background of Switzerland in 1916, "Secret Agent" keeps on the move from the first uncanny shot to the final fadeout, which comes after a Continental express train is spectacularly wrecked by bombing planes.

The acting down to the smallest role is excellent, with Madeleine Carroll gorgeous and fiery as Elsa, Giel-gud thrilling as Ashenden. Lore outstanding as the General and Robert Young extremely natural, whether he is being the spurned lover or the trapped villain. Percy Marmont, Lilli Palmer, Charles Carson and Florence Kahn also turn in splendid performances.

Also being shown in the second feature is Jack Holt in "Crash Donovan," starring also Nan Gray.

ATLAS THEATRE

Glamorous romance, beautiful women, whimsical humor and the haunting strains of Franz Lehár's famous music blend into an entertainment of indescribable charm in Ernst Lubitsch's production of "The Merry Widow," now playing at the Atlas Theatre.

With Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald as co-stars, singing the world-beloved song hits and enacting the whimsical romance of the musical masterpiece, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer staged the picture on a massive scale unique in the production of this type of picture.

drift-net license shall be made to and received by the Commissioner of Fisheries

COLUMBIA THEATRE

If J. Carrol Nash should ever decide to give up the screen he can always earn a living as a snake
charmer.

Nash, whose weekly salary runs
into high figures, portrays the role
of a Hindu snake charmer in the Warner Oland mystery, "Charlie Chan
at the Circus," which is now playing at the Columbia Theatre.

Disdaining the use of rubber
snakes, the Irish actor called for real
ones, and the studio responded by
renting a pair from Miss May Cooper,
snake charmer of the Al G. Barnes
circus.

JUVENILE SOCCER

The Lower Island Junior and juvenile footballers decided at a meeting yesterday evening to leave for which will be released early next week. Following are the teams re-

brilliant tenth-inning finish
which netted a 6 to 5 victory
left the Portland Beavers one

final playoff series for the Coast
League baseball pennant.

The Beavers last night spotted the eighth, saw the Oaks hammer over two runs for almost certain victory

in the tenth, and then proceeded to pound Lacey for five hits and three runs to end the battle on top.

The teams gave way to the opening of Portland's interscholastic high school grid season today. The next game will be played tomorrow
night and the third Sunday, after which the series will be resumed in
